

Steamship Lines To Add Planes

LONDON (CP)—The first move by one of the big British shipping companies to supplement sea services with air lines after the war is expected to be taken at an extraordinary general meeting of the Cunard Steamship Company at Liverpool Sept. 27.

Before the shareholders will be placed a proposal that part of the company's postwar expenditure be switched to air transport. They will be asked to sanction an alteration in the company's memorandum of association to permit the building of transport airliners and airfields for passenger and freight services.

More Beer Soon

British Columbia beer parlors may get a 10 per cent increase in their beer quota "very soon," although no definite decision has been made, Chairman W. F. Kennedy of the Liquor Control Board said today.

"I don't think it will be more, but 10 per cent would mean a lot of beer for the hotels and their customers," he said.

It will not mean any change in the ration of two cases a month to individuals buying at liquor stores for the rest of September.

Russians Move On, Take 90 More Towns

LONDON (CP)—Red Army troops continued to develop their Donets basin offensive today with advances of 6 to 12 miles and captured more than 90 inhabited localities, a Moscow communique, recorded by the Soviet monitor here said tonight.

Konotop had fallen and Stalino was imminently menaced.

Find No Sabotage

WASHINGTON (AP)—The F.B.I. after an investigation on the scene, said this afternoon "there is no evidence of sabotage" in the wreck of the Pennsylvania Railroad's Congressional Limited near Philadelphia.

NEW YORK (AP)—The Rome radio said in a broadcast recorded here by NBC today that the Hungarian government "has taken steps" to declare Budapest an open city.

Victoria Flier Pilots Mosquito

By ALAN RANDAL
LONDON (CP)—Quite apart from the Canadians who went to Berlin in the big bombers, there are other Canadian fliers who have a share in the general offensive against the Nazi capital. They are the Mosquito crewmen whose job is not to lay a town waste, as do the heavy bombers, but to keep it alert, to make it a centre of sleepless people.

A leading part in these operations was taken by P.O. A. B. Stovel, Winnipeg, and P.O. N. S. B. Hull of 1224 Fairfield Road, Victoria, B.C.

Hockey Forbidden For Servicemen

Navy, army and air force will not take part in senior hockey during the coming winter, Maj. Gen. A. E. Potts, G.O.C., said today. He said this had been mutually agreed between the three services. This means there will be no service teams entering for the Allan Cup series.

"This decision has been reached, chiefly because of the teams available at all times, when required for training and playing," Gen. Potts said. "It has been found this interrelated seriously with their primary duties as sailors, soldiers and airmen. An effort is being made to organize a purely service league on a ship, regimental or group basis."

8th Army Holds 60-Mile Arc in Italy

Advancing Russ Virtually Rule All Donets Basin

By HENRY C. CASSIDY
MOSCOW. (AP)—The Red Army in the Donets basin has practically completed the recapture of the rich mining area while Russian forces advancing in the general direction of Kiev, capital city of the Ukraine, jumped forward after capturing the rail junction of Konotop and now are threatening Bakhmach.

The Soviet air force, softening the way for the advancing ground troops, pounded the enemy front line and near rear bases where the retreating Germans were concentrating their forces in order to stem the advance of the Russian troops.

Heavy rains, miles of minefields, demolished bridges and roads and river crossings in addition to German tanks, planes and infantry were unable to curb the Red Army's Donets basin avalanche, which now is pounding at the last two exits from the industrial district, Krasnoarmeyskoye and Salino.

(A Reuters news agency dispatch from Moscow said Stalino was under fire of Russian guns and that Soviet advance units were only two miles away from the city and were closing in for the kill.)

Populace Driven By Retreating Nazis

Red Star reported that the retreating Germans were not only demolishing and plundering the mining towns of the Donets basin but were also driving away the local populations under threat of execution if they refused to evacuate.

A Red Star dispatch said the Red Army, after a night battle which cleared the enemy out of Artemovsk, had moved upon Konstantinovka. From south-east of the city the Germans launched infantry in a counter-attack assisted by 20 tanks.

Soviet anti-tank cannon, rifles and mortars which were moving along with the advance forces opened fire and repulsed the counterattack and forced the enemy back to the outskirts of the city, Red Star said.

Blazing Buildings Lighted Battle

The night battle which followed, lighted by blazing buildings, cleared the Germans from the city and opened a path for the Red Army to Kramatorskaya.

At Kramatorskaya the Germans again put up a struggle, but again under the illumination of blazing structures in a twilight battle the Red Army cleared the city and moved on.

Stalino's fall was expected momentarily. Outskirts of the city were won in a smashing attack on a 80-mile front. The Germans, after setting fire to the city were in headlong flight.

'Stalin Meeting Nearer'—F.D.R.

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Roosevelt said today that progress had been made since the Quebec Conference and also since Saturday toward arranging a British-U.S.-Russian meeting in which Josef Stalin would participate, and said he hoped for more progress within 24 or 48 hours.

His words to a press-radio conference followed repeated invitations for Russia to sit in on a three-way Allied war council and made it evident such a parley was nearer to actuality now than ever before.

It had been revealed previously that plans had been completed for representatives of the foreign offices of the three countries to get together.

The objectives would be to achieve greater co-ordination both in the field of military efforts in Europe and in the realm of present and postwar policies.

Fifth Victory Loan Of $1,200,000,000 On Sale Oct. 18

OTTAWA (CP)—The Fifth Victory Loan campaign will open Oct. 18 with a minimum cash objective of $1,200,000,000—the largest ever set for any Victory Loan—it was announced today.

The objective in the Fourth Victory Loan last spring was $1,000,000,000, and like all previous war loans, it was heavily oversubscribed.

Besides the cash objective of $1,200,000,000, holders of Dominion of Canada 5 per cent bonds and Dominion of Canada 4 per cent bonds due Oct. 15, 1945, and called for payment next Oct. 15 will be given an opportunity to convert their holdings of these issues into Fifth Victory Loan bonds.

But these conversions will not be applied against national and local cash objectives, since the $1,200,000,000 figure is for "new" money only.

The minimum cash objective will be divided as follows: $325,000,000 from individuals and $675,000,000 from "special names" which comprise business firms and corporations for the most part.

In announcing the new campaign for funds to carry on the war, Finance Minister Ilsley said:

"While the objective is the largest ever set for any Victory Loan, I am confident it is well within the capacity of the Canadian people to achieve this goal."

Workers immediately began dissecting the tangled metal of No. 7 coach.

The electric-powered train, which ordinarily made the 226-mile run in 210 minutes, was carrying 541 passengers—many of them service men—was heading into a curve at Frankford Junction, in northeast Philadelphia, when the accident occurred at 6:12 p.m., E.D.T.

A waste-packed journal box "ran hot," railroad officials said, on the front of the seventh car of the train, burning the wheel loose from the axle.

The coach, hurtling into a steel pole supporting overhead power lines, was cut in two vertically as though by a giant axe. The coach behind jammed accordion-like against it. Six other cars behind were thrown from the rails, but all those killed and most of those injured were in the seventh and eighth coaches.

Traffic on the main line was still blocked early today, but freight and through passenger trains were rerouted around the city.

U.S. army guards with fixed bayonets and sub-machine guns headed a crowd away from the wreckage.

All available ambulances went to the scene, and hundreds of air raid wardens were mobilized to help police, firemen, soldiers and sailors in rescue work. Hospitals pleaded for registered nurses and blood donors.

Last person to be taken alive from the wreckage was Mrs. Christiana Nix, about 28, of Long Island City, N.Y., who lay there for six hours with her head and torso outside a sheared coach and both legs held firmly inside.

It was she who had said, "Take your time. I can stand it."

For hours rescuers cut through the wreckage with acetylene torches before Mrs. Nix could be removed and taken to a hospital, where her condition was reported critical.

Train Wreck Death Toll Set at 65; 123 Injured

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Twisted wreckage of the Pennsylvania Railroad's Congressional Limited gave up seven more bodies to rescue workers at noon-time today, bringing to 65 the number known to have perished when the train piled up heading into a curve in northeast Philadelphia Monday evening.

At least 123 among the Labor Day crowd of 541 passengers were injured as the 16-car Washington to New York express developed a "hot box" and crashed with a roar. Many in overcrowded hospitals were reported near death.

The newly-discovered bodies and remnants of bodies were taken to the city morgue, where relatives, some hysterical, filed past long rows in an attempt to make identifications.

The first body discovered as rescue workers broke into the No. 8 coach and raised it with a crane was that of a U.S. Marine lieutenant. Two other Marine lieutenants and a sailor immediately ordered workers away and took the body, and a Marine detail which had stood guard through the night was ordered closer to the wreckage.

As the crane resumed lifting, the decapitated body of a woman tumbled from the raised coach. Two more bodies were found when rescue workers crawled under.

Workers immediately began dissecting the tangled metal of No. 7 coach.

49 Lose Lives As Fire Sweeps Old Houston Hotel

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP)—Forty-nine men, war workers, transients and old age pensioners, died today in a fast-spreading fire that ravaged the Gulf Hotel at Preston and Louisiana Streets here, an ancient brick and frame structure.

Others of the 133 men listed on the hotel's register Monday night were in critical condition. Thirty-two were taken to hospitals, but 25 were soon released.

Police and fire officials said today they believed all bodies had been removed from the ruins. Eyewitnesses said many men jumped from windows and a fire escape. Men fought and crawled to get through one unblocked exit.

The blaze, discovered shortly after midnight, quickly blocked off one of the two fire escapes of the three-story brick structure. An inside stairway likewise was made impassable for those caught on the two upper floors.

Flames poured from every opening and crevice in the building, one of the oldest in Houston. Firemen could not lay ladders against it.

Bodies were taken to the city morgue for identification as rapidly as firemen pulled them from the still smoldering structure.

Tighten Rulings On Rationed Goods; 'Swapping' Banned

OTTAWA (CP)—Exchange of rationed foods except among members of the same household—unless the foods are to be shared at a meal—is prohibited under an order announced today by the Prices Board which tightens existing regulations.

The order provides that if members of two households are planning a meal together, the guests may bring the hostess rationed foods to be used at the meal. But it now is illegal for persons to use coupons to buy rationed goods to give them away.

An exception is made for goods purchased as gifts to members of the armed forces or merchant marine serving out of Canada, or to relatives living outside Canada.

The new order consolidates all previous food-rationing orders. One new provision requires the surrender of ration books by persons who leave Canada for 60 days or more. It is against provision of the order for anyone to use his book in his absence.

A change has been made in the time limit for surrender of ration books by guests at hotels. Previously they were required to turn them in to the management after one week's stay. Now they must be turned over after a two-week stay, and the following coupons will be surrendered for each full two weeks' residence—one sugar coupon, one tea or coffee coupon, two butter coupons, four meat coupons and one preserves coupon.

10-Mile Advance Captures Palmi

By EDWARD KENNEDY

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS, NORTH AFRICA (AP)—The 8th Army drove steadily ahead on the Calabrian coast road today, extending the invasion arc around Italy's southernmost tip to about 60 miles, and smashed another 10 miles inland in the San Stefano sector to Delianuova.

On the west coast British and Canadian columns had pushed ahead at least as far as Palmi, while on the south their gains extended some distance east of Melito. The capture of Palmi and Delianuova was announced by Allied headquarters today.

With the coastal arc held by Gen. Sir Bernard Montgomery's fighters now approximately 60 miles in length, the wedge driven inland from the original beachhead consists of a triangle running about 15 miles east-northeast from Reggio Calabria and then to the coast at Palmi.

(An indication the Allies are speeding farther northward on the coastal road came from the German high command, whose Tuesday communique said "a British attack north of Palmi was repelled.")

(Although Axis broadcasts Monday reported the German and Italian commands had effected an evacuation of southern Calabria, today's Nazi bulletin, broadcast by Berlin and recorded by the Associated Press, said: "On the Calabrian peninsula our protective formations engaged in minor engagements with the enemy.")

Demolitions Slow Up Progress of Invaders

Front dispatches reported scant opposition was encountered by the British and Canadian troops, but that extensive demolitions of roads, bridges and tunnels and the extreme ruggedness of the terrain made progress slow. The Allied communique described the advance as satisfactory.

The Allied command took advantage of the situation to move reinforcements and a huge amount of material across the Strait of Messina to the mainland under the protection of the Royal Navy and British and U.S. air units. There were scarcely any enemy attacks on this supply line.

(A Berlin broadcast recorded in London by the ministry of information said that "in view of the slow progress of the British landing operations in Calabria it is possible another landing enterprise still is planned.")

(The Allies are rushing huge stores of materials into the Mediterranean theatre, the broadcast said, reporting "new lively movements of Allied shipping in the western Mediterranean." Berlin asserted 72 Allied ships escorted by five destroyers and four patrol vessels left Gibraltar Monday.)

Allied air units, supporting the ground operations, battered targets in southern Italy Monday and swept as far north as Naples to pound that important communications centre.

Towns and villages within the area which fell into Allied hands in the drive to Delianuova include Sniopoli, Melicucca, Solano, Ceramidio, Pellegrina and San Procopio.

Palmi, situated on the Calabrian west coast, is approximately six miles north of Baglana, most northerly point previously reported captured by the forces of Gen. Montgomery's veteran 8th Army.

Delianuova is about eight miles inland from Palmi and approximately the same distance north of San Stefano, the fall of which was announced Monday.

San Stefano is on the western slope of Aspromonte Mountain, part of a chain of rugged mountains extending down the centre of the Calabrian Peninsula. The Allies appeared to be consolidating their hold on the stretch of territory lying between the mountains and the coast.

The raid on Naples was carried out by heavy bombers, and was directed against both airfields and communications in that area.

At least one long-range fighter escort struck simultaneously at the airfields at Capua, 20 miles north of Naples, and at Grazzanise, a short distance west of Capua. The Capua airfield also was bombed by night.

A number of fighters were encountered by the raiders, and 10 were reported destroyed.

Allied fighter bombers and light bombers, meanwhile, attacked targets in southern Italy.

Allied headquarters declared naval activity was continuing unhampered off the Calabrian coast and reported a steady stream of reinforcements was flowing to the Italian mainland under the guns of the combined Allied fleets.

Axis aircraft attacked the Bizerte area Monday night, but it was a costly operation. Allied headquarters said seven of them were shot down after dropping a few bombs and causing but slight damage.

Four Allied planes were reported lost in Monday's raids, which included a night sortie by R.A.F. Wellingtons on enemy communication lines at Battipaglia.

Italians Admit Withdrawal

(The Italian communique today, broadcast by the Rome radio and recorded by the Associated Press, reported "lively fighting" between the Allied advance guards and Axis rearwards "during a slow and orderly withdrawal of Axis troops from the coastal sectors of Calabria.")

Allied headquarters said the 8th Army advance columns were encountering relatively weak resistance from enemy forces. Villages in the triangular slice of Calabria now held by the 8th Army include Calarina, San Roberto, Fiumara, Santa Lucia, Rosali, Musalini, San Rocco, Laganadi and Santo Alessio.

The narrow strait of Messina separating the British and Canadian invasion army from its bases on Sicily was completely under Allied control as the Axis heavy guns which had shelled shore positions in Sicily and managed shipping in the strait were withdrawn for use when and if the Axis choose to make a determined stand.

(DNB, Germany news agency, said in a Berlin broadcast that Axis forces had evacuated all of southern Calabria and declared that "all indications point to a second large-scale landing of British and American troops... to come soon.")

There were indications that the Allies suspected the Axis was planning to make its stand in the vicinity of Naples, and that the greatest strength of enemy troops and war material was being concentrated in that area.

Sydney Welcomes Mrs. Roosevelt

SYDNEY (CP)—Australia's largest city welcomed Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt as she arrived today by plane from Melbourne and was whisked off to a downtown luncheon.

At Mascot Field, as her four-engine plane slipped out of an overcast sky, were Lord Wakehurst, Governor of New South Wales, Lady Wakehurst, and Ald. Bartley, Lord Mayor of Sydney.

Mrs. Roosevelt appeared happy, apparently enjoying every minute of her trip, which has carried her 8,000 miles from home.

She has visited three of the four leading cities on Australia's east coast in five days.

Tremendous crowds marked Mrs. Roosevelt's last day in Melbourne. Her appearance at a public reception and at an official government house banquet there Monday night drew crowds which jammed the streets. It was a welcome such as had been given no visitor since the Duke and Duchess of York, now the King and Queen, came here in 1927.

No Third War

SOUTHPORT, Eng. (CP)—The government is determined to resist every blandishment of Germany to compel Britain by "cowering and crawling" to devise a postwar policy which would allow Germany to develop. Labor Minister Ernest Bevin said today in an address to the British Trades Union Congress.

"It is not a question of revenge, but of protecting the generation yet unborn," he said.

G.O.P. Committee Demands Agency To Control Food

By D. HAROLD OLIVER
MACKINAC ISLAND, Mich. (AP)—With a bristling indictment of what it termed New Deal "instruments of Fascism," the Republican home front committee demanded today the establishment of a government agency with full powers over the production, distribution and prices of food.

The committee, headed by Senator Taft of Ohio and numbering Governors Thomas E. Dewey of New York and John W. Bricker of Ohio among its members, urged the Republican advisory council of 49 in a lengthy report to offer the country a program of increased production and improved distribution of food.

Its report went to council members as they met in executive session to consider a recommendation by its foreign policy committee, headed by Senator Vandenberg of Michigan, for a statement of international peace aims.

Council members leaving the executive session this morning reported a belief that a fight over international co-operation to preserve peace had been avoided by the drawing of the resolution embodying ideas of several factions.

The council was to meet later in the day to act on the two statements of party principles.

Invoking against what it characterized as the New Deal's "bureaucratic decree," the Taft committee asserted the individual initiative of citizens and particularly farmers should be subjected to "minimum control from Washington."

It charged that the administration policy on manpower and farm machinery, as well as its "inexpert price regulation," had hampered full production of food.

An immediate program of increased production and improved distribution must be adopted by a single agency clothed with full power over food in all of its aspects," the report said.

Minister Opens Tenders For Cowichan Bay Road

Hon. Herbert Anscomb, Minister of Public Works, today opened tenders for six miles of road reconstruction at Cowichan Lake, as follows:

R. Campbell Construction Co., $67,080; Coast Construction Co., $55,230; General Construction Co., $55,196; Vancouver Construction Co., $50,499.

Reconstruction of the old road will be carried out for approximately six miles along Cowichan Lake to the Hillcrest Lumber Company's operations at Honey-moon Bay. There are now two mills working full time at the lake, and other industrial activity, and a better road is needed to take adequate care, especially in the winter, of the heavy trucks moving over that section.

Tell Hitler Defence of Po Might Lead to Disaster

By JOHN H. COLBURN
Associated Press Staff Writer

STOCKHOLM (AP) — The Allied invasion of Italy was reported today to have caught Hitler and members of his general staff at odds over the question of whether the German army should attempt to make a stand along the Po River, or withdraw to positions behind the Alps.

According to a Swedish observer, who cannot be identified by name, but who had just returned after a long stay in Germany, Hitler is insisting—against the advice of his generals—that an attempt should be made to halt the Allies at the PO.

The Germans already have erected huge fortifications along the PO, the traveler said, as the result of a deal made between Hitler and Mussolini before the latter's fall from power. This understanding provided for the withdrawal of Axis troops from most of Italy to the Po River with little more than delaying actions against the Allies further south.

The German general staff, headed by Gen. Franz Halder, was said, however, to have opposed this plan, holding that if the Allies succeeded in breaking the Po defence wall the Germans would face a situation similar to that which faced Nazi forces in north Africa. The evacuation of German troops across the Alps, staff officers would be almost as difficult as the attempt to escape across the Mediterranean from Tunisia.

(London dispatches said the Germans, apparently fearful that the Allies were planning new invasion moves against Europe, were rushing to completion all possible measures for the defence of the southern coast of France and other vulnerable spots along the Mediterranean coastline.)

The Swedish traveler reported that members of the high German military clique shared with the German people a desire for peace but that their Prussian tradition prevented them from entertaining any idea of a cessation of hostilities "without honor."

Rather than be humiliated at the peace table, the informant said, they would continue to fight until the inevitable debacle, and then let Hitler and the Nazi party leaders bear the responsibility.

The Swede concluded his observations with the remark that a foreigner left Germany today with the impression that the war would continue—"bloody and terrible, and increasingly hopeless and meaningless for many, many millions of people."

Extensive Damage In Shoe Store Fire

Entire stock of the Vanity Slipper Shop, 1306 Douglas, was damaged early Monday morning by a fire of undetermined origin which swept through the store, broke through to apartments above and caused smoke damage to the two adjoining properties of McLean's Bakery and the Cunningham Drug Stores Ltd.

Neither firemen nor E. Munday, manager of the firm, could estimate the damage today, although firemen reported every shoe in the store was burned or damaged by the heat, smoke and water.

Firemen were called to the building at 5:09 Monday morning and found the store filled with smoke with the fire burning fiercely at the rear of the building. They were able to stop the blaze spreading to the upstairs apartment block almost immediately after it broke through the ceiling of the shoe store.

In process of renovation the apartments were unoccupied. Smoke damage to the bakery shop and drug store, in the same building, was small. Both stores were open today.

OVERCOME BY SMOKE

In the course of the fire-fighting operations which lasted five hours, Deputy Chief Robert Taylor was overcome by smoke. He was removed to his home and attended by Dr. Eric Boak. His condition is not serious.

Cause of the blaze has puzzled firemen, who are continuing investigations. The blaze appeared, however, to have broken out in the rear of the store.

The shoe store fire was the first of seven calls answered by city firemen Monday. Firemen returned to Yates and Douglas later in the morning to a car fire but their services were not required.

In the afternoon they extinguished grass fires in the 700 block Pandora, near Ross Bay Cemetery, in the 1500 block Despard Avenue, and at Fisgard and Blanshard.

Firemen were also called to a Southgate Street house where smoke was seen in the basement but no fire was found. The last call of the day was a false alarm.

Saturday Night Fire Guts Saanich Home

The home of Mrs. G. P. Edwards, 2820 Inlet Avenue, was gutted late Saturday night by fire which did damage unofficially estimated at $1,000.

Cause of the fire, Saanich firemen said, was believed to have been a cigarette butt in a chestfield. Sole occupants of the house at the time the blaze was discovered were Mrs. Edwards' two children, Joan age 11 and a son age 9.

Joan, firemen said, rushed out of the burning house to a neighbor, Mrs. W. Darvill, 2828 Inlet, and she summoned the fire department. Then Mrs. Darvill went to the burning house and was able to get the younger child from the building.

The fire had a good hold when firemen arrived. Damage to the furniture, which was uninsured, firemen said, would be considerable. The house was covered by insurance.

Mr. Edwards is on active service overseas.

NEW DELHI (CP)—Medium United States bombers blasted Japanese barracks at Maymyo, 40 miles northwest of Mandalay, Monday, causing heavy damage and leaving fires from which smoke rose to 1,500 feet, a headquarters communique said today.

On Sunday, another formation wrecked installations at the Namtu mines near Lashio in northern Burma. A diesel power plant was destroyed and engine sheds and other buildings were demolished. All planes returned safely.

Easy Landing For Canadians

By MAURICE DESJARDINS
WITH THE CANADIAN TROOPS IN SICILY (Delayed, C.P.)—Naval crews returning to landing beaches of Sicily after ferrying Canadian invasion troops to Italy said they had met no opposition.

They said the landing craft made "good dry landings" and that the Canadians were walking in orderly fashion on the gravel beach, then disappearing into the misty darkness.

On one of the beaches of Sicily, five Italian machine-gunners created a sensation by arriving in a small rowboat. They had put to sea from the Italian mainland at 11 last night (Thursday), leaving their coastal machine gun post unmanned.

One Canadian coxswain who returned said he believed our terriblest artillery barrage had a lot to do with keeping the enemy from the beach.

Another Cut In U.S. Newsprint

WASHINGTON (AP)—An additional 5 per cent cut in United States newsprint usage for the fourth quarter of 1943 has been recommended by the newspaper industry advisory committee.

In announcing the action, the War Production Board said this would mean a total cut of 15 per cent since the start of the year, but the newspaper group's recommendation has not been translated into a decision because information is lacking on the newsprint tonnage to be delivered by Canada in the fourth quarter.

Canada supplies 75 per cent of the print paper used by U.S. publishers.

Concentrated Raid Leaves Munich Smoking Ruin

Full Scale Air Offensive Maintained Over Week-end

LONDON (CP)—The R.A.F. and R.C.A.F. Monday night made a heavy and concentrated attack on Munich, birthplace of Nazism and important war industry centre, losing 16 bombers, five of them Canadian.

It was the seventh attack by the R.A.F. on Germany's fourth largest city, home of great industrial works and key southern railway centre. The last big raid was March 9. Mosquito bombers went back March 16.

Today the Allied aerial offensive against western Europe went into its sixth straight day when American heavy and medium bombers blasted at targets in Belgium and France in daylight.

The Air Ministry announced that preliminary reports of the Munich raid showed the attack "was concentrated and effective though some cloud over the target made full observation of the results difficult."

NIGHT INTRUSIONS

There were also night intruder raids on airfields in France by the fighter command, during which two German bombers were destroyed over their bases. Naval aircraft bombed German light naval craft near the French channel coast.

Monday Allied heavy bombers hammered Stuttgart and British and American medium bombers pounded targets in France.

R.C.A.F. Mosquitoes bombed airfields in enemy-occupied territory during the night.

Hardly had the night raiders returned when squadrons of day-light bombers set out across the English Channel to strike new blows at Hitler's European fortress.

Tuesday night's attack was the R.A.F.'s fourth successive night assault on Germany.

In retaliation, the German air force struck back at Britain Monday night in comparatively small force, scattering bombs over the Thames estuary and touching off a brief alert in some districts of London about 3.30 a.m. No bombs fell in the capital, however.

Two of the enemy raiders were reported destroyed and two other Nazi planes were shot down over their bases on the continent by R.A.F. fighters on intruder patrols.

SMOKING RUIN

The Stuttgart attack was the first on that target by the American heavy bombers. The big ships made the 900-mile round trip in eight hours to turn the southwest German city—which manufactures plane and submarine engines—into a black and smoking ruin.

Swarms of Axis fighters attacked the ships, which were credited officially with shooting down 70 of the enemy's planes. Meanwhile American medium bombers teamed up with R.A.F. units to hammer important communication centres and airfields in France Tuesday.

R.A.F. Mitchells, Venturas and Typhoons, escorted by R.A.F. and R.C.A.F. Spitfires rained bombs upon the docks and harbor installations at Boulogne and the railroad and freight yards at Rouen.

Other units attacked Nazi airfields at Amiens, Serqueux, Abbeville, Douai, Valenciennes, Cambrai, Orleans and Conches.

The British Canadian escort shot down 11 enemy fighters.

Over Le Roger airfield in northern France Sqdn. Ldr. R. W. (Bunk) McNair of North Battleford, Sask., accounted for one of the enemy fighters to raise his total count to 15.

All the Canadian planes returned safely, while four R.A.F. aircraft were lost and 35 American.

MILWAUKEE (AP)—John Cudahy, 55, former U.S. ambassador to Poland and Belgium, and one-time minister to Elre, was killed Monday when he was thrown from his horse while riding over his estate about 10 miles from Milwaukee. He died of a broken neck.

Survivors are his wife, the former Katharine Reed of Milwaukee, to whom he was married Aug. 2, 1913; a daughter, Mary, of Norfolk, Va., and a son, Michael, stationed at an army camp in Nebraska.

Shipfitter's Helper Hurt In 12-foot Fall

Joseph Jarvie, 407 Vancouver Street, a shipfitter's helper at Yarrow's Ltd., who suffered head injuries, lacerations and bruises Friday in a fall, was reported to be progressing satisfactorily at Royal Jubilee Hospital today.

Jarvie fell 12 feet from a platform into the engine-room of a ship on which he was working.

According to Yarrow's authorities, Jarvie unconsciously stepped back from the platform on which he was working when another workman addressed him.

U.S. British Co-operation Must Continue—Churchill

CAMBRIDGE, Mass. (AP)—Prime Minister Winston Churchill declared Monday that the United States, which could not escape responsibility in this time of global conflict, would have an equal responsibility in the peace that follows.

"The price of greatness is responsibility," he told a special convocation of Harvard University faculty and overseers, called together to award him an honorary degree of Doctor of Laws. Mr. Churchill, in a bright red gown over a dark suit coat and grey trousers, was cheered and applauded for a full two minutes as he accepted the honor from President Jas. Bryant Conant of Harvard. The accompanying citation said:

"Winston Leonard Spencer Churchill—an historian, who has written a glorious page of British history; a statesman and warrior whose tenacity and courage turned back the tyranny in freedom's darkest hour."

The "gift of a common tongue," Mr. Churchill told his Sanders Theatre audience at Harvard, most of whom were in uniform, is a "priceless inheritance" to the British and American peoples, which has enabled us to wage war together with an intimacy and harmony never before achieved among allies.

"It may well become the foundation of a common citizenship," he added.

UNEQUALLED

Citing the work of the combined chiefs-of-staff of the British and American military commands, operating "immediately under the President and myself as representative of the British war cabinet," he declared that it was unequalled in the history of the world.

"In my opinion it would be a most foolish and imprudent act on the part of our two governments, or either of them, to break up this smooth-running and immensely powerful machinery the moment the war is over," he said.

"For our own safety as well as for the security of the rest of the world, we are bound to keep it working and in running order after the war, probably for a good many years—not only until we have set up some world arrangement to keep the peace, but until we know that it is an arrangement which will really give us that protection we must have from danger and aggression, which we have already had to seek across two vast world wars."

"I am not qualified, of course, to judge whether or not this would become a party question in the United States, and I would not presume to discuss that point," he went on. "I am sure, however, that it would not be a party question in Great Britain."

Mr. Churchill said that this was the second time in his lifetime that he had seen the "long arm of destiny" reach across the ocean to involve the United States in a deadly struggle.

"There was no use saying, 'We don't want it; we won't have it. Our forbears left Europe to avoid these quarrels. We've founded a new world which has no contact with the old. There was no use in that. The long arm reaches out remorselessly and everyone sees the distant environment and outlook undergo a swift and irresistible change. . . ."

Turning to the end of the war, Mr. Churchill said that various schemes for insuring a world peace while preserving the rights and traditions of all were being studied in the Allied nations.

AGGRESSION GREW

"It is said that the League of Nations failed," he said. "If so, that is largely because it was abandoned or betrayed. . . ."

because the United States, the originating impulse, fell out of the line; because while France had been bled white and England was supine and bewildered, a monstrous growth of aggression sprang up in Germany, Italy and Japan.

"We have learned from hard experience that stronger, more efficient, more rigorous world institutions must be created to preserve peace, and to forestall the causes of future wars."

The strongest, victorious nations, and those which "have borne the burden and heat of the day" must be combined in this task," Mr. Churchill said.

"But," he added, "nothing would work soundly for long, without the united effort of the British and American peoples."

"If we are together," he concluded, "nothing is impossible. If we are divided, all will fail."

"The price of greatness is responsibility," he asserted. "If the people of the United States had remained in a mediocre station, struggling with the wilderness, absorbed in their own affairs, and a factor of no consequence in the movements of the world, they might have remained forgotten and undisturbed beyond their protecting ocean."

"But one cannot rise to be in many ways the leading community in a civilized world without being involved in its problems, without being convulsed by its agonies and inspired by its causes. If this has been proved in the

Associated Press War Analyst
This past long week-end has been a notable one for Allied arms around the world.

Since invasion of France across the English Channel is one of the paramount issues of the moment, foremost of the developments, was an announcement in the Washington Evening Star. The Star's foreign affairs writer, Constantine Brown, says he learns on the highest authority that Gen. Geo. C. Marshall, U.S. chief of staff, will be named commander-in-chief of any Allied invasion of the continent from England.

This means, Brown points out, "that preparations for operating across the English Channel are sufficiently advanced to select a leader."

When the invasion does arrive, and there is an Allied army safely ashore in France, it's going to place an unescapable squeeze on Hitler, for he will be between the Russians on the east and the other United Nations on the west.

RED ADVANCE

Fitting this announcement like a glove is the news of the continued Red advance against the Nazi right wing. Soviet forces are smashing at the gates of the big industrial city and mining centre of Stalingrad, which is the key position of the Germans in the rich Donets basin.

past, as it has been, it will be come indisputable in the future.

CANNOT ESCAPE

"The people of the United States cannot escape world responsibilities. Although we live in a period so tumultuous that little can be predicted, we may be quite sure that this process will be intensified with every forward step the United States makes in wealth and power."

Paying tribute to the work of the Anglo-American combined staffs, he said:

"This is a wonderful system. There was nothing like it in the last war—there never has been anything like it."

The members of the staffs, he added, "know each other, like each other, and trust each other."

"This committee with its elaborate organization of staff officers of every grade, disposes of all our resources, and in practice uses British and American troops, ships, aircraft and munitions, just as if they were the resources of a single state or nation," he said.

"I would not say there are never divergencies of view among these high professional authorities."

"It would be unnatural if there were not."

"That is why it is necessary to have plenary meetings of principals every two or three months. When they meet they thrash things out with candor and plain blunt speech, and after a few days, the President and I find ourselves furnished with sincere and united advice."

The Prime Minister added:

"It is reproduced in an even more tightly knit form at Gen. Eisenhower's headquarters in the Mediterranean, where everything is completely intermingled, and soldiers are ordered into battle by the supreme commander and his deputy, Gen. Alexander, without the slightest regard to whether they are British, Canadian, or American, but simply in accordance with the fighting need."

Mr. Churchill recalled that Bismarck was said to have observed towards the close of his life, that the most potent factor in human security at the end of the 19th century was the fact that the British and American peoples spoke the same language.

COMMON LANGUAGE

He said he believed a common language among the peoples of the world would be an advantage to many races, and an aid to the building up of our new structure for preserving peace.

"Let us go into this together," he declared.

"Let us have another Boston tea party upon it!"

He spoke of "basic English," which he said was composed of about 650 nouns and 200 verbs, as a medium that might be used to advantage by the whole world. Some months ago he had persuaded the British cabinet to set up a committee of ministers to study and report upon basic English.

Since coming to this side he had discovered that President Roosevelt felt there was merit in basic English. And he had found that Harvard had done more than any other American university to promote its extension.

Mr. Churchill went directly to the steps of the Memorial Chapel

Farther north the Reds have tightened their grip on the strategic Bryansk-Kiev railway which controls a wide sweep of territory. Up in the Smolensk sector, along the route where Napoleon broke his back, the Germans have been counterattacking fiercely, but Moscow reports that all thrusts have been repulsed.

DEBACLE ON WAY

So goes the story on the eastern front until we have a composite picture of the great Nazi army being steadily beaten back along the entire 600 miles of the German right flank. The situation of the Hitlerites is indeed serious. Unless they are able to stem the Russian onslaught they will be in danger of a debacle as they continue to withdraw their unwieldy line towards the defenses of the Dnieper.

Perhaps the autumn rains, which are about due, may intervene to give the Germans a chance to pull their badly mauled line together. But then will come the cold weather to freeze the ground, and the Red attacks will be resumed.

Allied success continued in Italy. British and Canadian forces moved steadily inland from their 40-mile beachhead, overrunning about a dozen villages in Labor Day operations.

Progress was slow because of the mountainous nature of the terrain and the demolitions carried out by the Axis, but enemy resistance was light.

Meantime the Rome radio continues to fish for peace.

within the Harvard Yard after the ceremony, and stood upon the uppermost step to address the army and navy students stationed at the university for training.

Wishing the students all success in their military careers, Mr. Churchill told them:

"I hope you feel that we are your worthy brothers, and know that we will march with you into any quarter of the world that may be necessary, to establish and maintain justice among men."

Governor Leverett Saltonstall, himself a Harvard alumnus, welcomed the Prime Minister to Massachusetts and to the company of Harvard men as one who "tells the truth in dark days as well as bright."

Few Parades Mark Canada's Labor Day

By Canadian Press

Canada Monday observed the 50th Labor Day of its history and the fifth of this war. There were few parades or demonstrations to mark the holiday.

At Montreal thousands took part in what was described as one of the largest Labor Day parades in Montreal's history.

Mayor J. W. Cornett of Vancouver addressed a Labor Day gathering of 8,000 at Brockton Point while other Vancouver residents amused themselves at sport events and a beauty contest. Most Winnipeg residents spent the holiday indoors.

Saskatoon's Labor Day celebration was in the form of inter-services sports meet and a variety show, sponsored by the Saskatoon Trades and Labor Council.

At Edmonton an interservice track meet was held.

TUESDAY, SEPTEMBER 7, 1943

His Harvard Pronouncement

THREE YEARS AGO, ON SEPTEMBER 5, 1940, to be precise, Mr. Churchill announced to the British House of Commons what he termed "memorable transactions" between Great Britain and the United States—and "as far as I can make out, they have been completed to the general satisfaction of the British and American peoples and to the encouragement of our friends all over the world." A trifle more than three weeks earlier, the Prime Minister had explained the desirability of dealing with the interests of the two countries in respect of naval and air defence of the western hemisphere—and "we had therefore decided spontaneously, and without being asked or offered any inducement, to inform the government of the United States that we should be glad to place such defence facilities at their disposal by leasing suitable sites in our trans-Atlantic possessions for their greater security against the unmeasured dangers of the future." Hence the "destroyer-for-bases" deal which followed Mr. Churchill's classic allusion to the relationship between the two English-speaking democracies:

"Undoubtedly this process means that these two... the British Empire and the United States, will have to be somewhat mixed up together in some of their affairs for mutual and general advantage. For my own part, looking out upon the future, I do not view the process with any misgivings. I could not stop it if I wished; no one can stop it. Like the Mississippi, it just keeps rolling along. Let it roll. Let it roll on full flood, inexorable, irresistible, benignant, to broader and better days."

These words were spoken 10 months before Germany attacked Russia, nearly 16 months before Pearl Harbor, and a year had yet to relapse before the Atlantic Charter was given to the world. Much "mixing up" has taken place since August 20, 1940, the day of the Prime Minister's utterance. Empire and American soldiers, sailors and airmen have given their lives fighting the same enemy—in the same cause, for the same ideals. Small wonder, then, that the Prime Minister should select yesterday's ceremonial at Harvard University, on American soil, to announce in his inimitably candid fashion his firm belief that the future peace of the world depends to a greater degree than perhaps is generally appreciated upon the permanence of the existing method of collaboration between the two English-speaking organizations.

The tone and contents of Mr. Churchill's speech must have conveyed to all who heard it his firm conviction that it would be nothing short of suicidal were the machinery now running so smoothly and efficiently in all departments of the war to be disbanded or allowed to run down as soon as the emergency had passed. Not only did he consider that this arrangement should remain intact and operative; he was equally emphatic in his advocacy of a political as well as a military alliance. And although well spaced from the essence of its context—since he was discussing the use of "Basic English" as a prospective universal means of simple expression—the Prime Minister numbered among his hopes a common citizenship throughout both the British and the American worlds.

All thinking Americans will agree with Mr. Churchill's dictum that "the price of greatness is responsibility," that the price of co-operation, like liberty, is eternal vigilance—meaning for our neighbors that they cannot escape that responsibility, regardless of their concepts of national destiny or political traditionalism. Nor will any realistic citizen of the United States find serious fault with the Prime Minister's further hope that the arguments supporting an expansion of this "mixing up" process will not lose their potency in the muddled waters of political controversy; he assured his vast invisible audience, incidentally, that they would not meet such a fate in Britain. To be sure, Mr. Churchill used plain and brave words—plainer and braver than any that have hitherto marked projections of his desires before the American people.

Candid though he was, however, students of history in the United States will not fail to understand the important implications of Mr. Churchill's idea of a military and political alliance between the British Commonwealth and the neighboring Republic. Such should be regarded as the logical cornerstone of a structure which must be built if triumph over world chaos is to be followed by permanent world order. Many firmly-grounded ideas obviously will have to be uprooted; rigid concepts of sovereignty will require substantial readjustment; but if the present Prime Minister of Britain—with a traditionalism all his own—can save to an American audience, on American soil, that the "empires of the future are the empires of the mind," no man or woman with vision and able to read the signs of these times need have any doubts about the forging of the twin alliances which Mr. Churchill advocates—or even about the prospect of a common citizenship.

The good in censorship is never enough to offset the evil of making everybody lose faith in reports.

Stretching A Point

THAT ABLY-EDITED AND REFRESH-ingly-candid American weekly, the New Republic, has read into the results of the recent general election in the Commonwealth of Australia a good deal more than the circumstances would seem to warrant. It figuratively ties a string round the smashing victory scored by the Curtin Labor government and "the triumphs of the Canadian Commonwealth Federation" (we forgive the error in the title of the Dominion's third party) in Ontario and then tosses them out as one parcel, declaring that "these victories together with the defeat of the anti-war forces in South Africa and the increased strength of Labor in New Zealand, Elzei and Ulster and, despite the electoral truce, in Britain, indicate that progressivism is on the march everywhere in the English-speaking world—with the possible exception of the United States."

Evidently the New Republic has not gone to any pains to study the original attitude of the Co-operative Commonwealth Federation toward Canada's participation in the war. If the party could have had its way, this Dominion's contribution would not have exceeded the economic realm. And we fall utterly to detect any semblance of an analogy between Mr. Curtin's victory, or the traditional influence of Labor in New Zealand, and the defeat of a Liberal government in Ontario that by no stretch of the imagination could be accused of antipathy to Canada's war effort in any particular. Nor will the New York weekly seriously argue that a provincial change of political fortunes in ultra-loyal Ontario can be considered in the same breath as Mr. Curtin's endorsement in a part of the British Empire which produced a wartime Prime Minister like Mr. Menzies—whose bitter anti-totalitarianism was a byword, so much so that a prominent Canadian Conservative once wished we had such a man in Canada. The reference here, incidentally, was intended to reflect on the King government's aggressive and effective contribution to victory—a record to which the New Republic has more than once alluded in warm terms, as has the President of the United States and the Prime Minister of Great Britain.

It is natural and, of course, good journalism that our New York contemporary should allude to political developments in a part of the English-speaking structure of nations whose sons are fighting side by side with American boys in the south Pacific and elsewhere. But not even the national leader of the C.C.F. would stretch the point so far as to suggest that the substantial introduction of his party's strength to the Ontario Legislature was due to an anti-war policy or any lukewarmness towards the war's conduct or implications on the part of the late administration. And, after all, provincial governments have only an indirect concern in this or any other national policies.

Big Events Pending?

ALTHOUGH IT IS NOT THE POLICY OF either Mr. Churchill or Mr. Roosevelt to announce their movements in advance, one does not need to be a clairvoyant to suggest that the Prime Minister seems in no hurry to leave Washington, a circumstance which is evoking much speculation in the United States and other Allied countries. It is suggested in some quarters that the two leaders of the English-speaking coalition are remaining within hailing distance of one another because the world conceivably may be on the threshold of momentous events. The imaginative ones have listed these three developments that may be near:

1. The surrender of Italy.
2. An invasion of Western Europe.
3. A new offensive against Japan.

If either or all the foregoing are "in the cards"—and neither would surprise many—it is logical that the Prime Minister and the President should be on hand for further intimate consultation. It is almost a month since Mr. Churchill landed in Quebec and the war picture has changed in many vital particulars in the meantime. Russia's steam roller still rolls on towards the west; the British 8th Army is squeezing the bunion on the Italian toe; the air war over Europe has reached new intensity and more aggressive continuity; and General MacArthur has provided the men of Tokyo with new worries in the last 48 hours. But we must rest our souls in patience.

Gloom In Tokyo

TOKYO'S RADIO WAS IN ANYTHING but a jubilant mood when it broadcast to the Japanese people today that the "development of the war situation hereafter warrants absolutely no optimism." Nor did the announcer beat about the bush; he included the comments of a Japanese naval war correspondent who has just returned to Tokyo with the conviction that "the battles of the South Pacific are mounting in fury with each passing moment," that "the enemy is steadily pouring in mechanized equipment," and that "we cannot afford to slacken even for a split second."

With the war now well into its fifth year—less than two years for Japan—Hirohito and his war-mad advisers must be sorely perplexed as they note General MacArthur's men slowly but surely hacking away at Nippon's much-vaunted Asiatic "co-prosperity sphere," and not a little bewildered as they observe one of the European Axis partners in total eclipse and the other wondering where and when the next big bang is going to fall on the Reich. Well may two men at present in consultation in Washington treat themselves to a long and hearty chuckle.

Why do women lose their figures? Well, WACS gained weight but made their waists smaller by working hard.

OLD-TIMER

AN OLD-TIMER of Victoria, who has been exiled for many years in the brick and mortar jungles of Vancouver, has been staying with me lately and marveling at the changes in the appearance and habits of this city.

This old man said he could remember the time when you could easily find a parking space on the main streets of Victoria. He paused and looked at the tolling traffic of Douglas Street and tried to tell me that he could recall the day when there were no traffic lights and none needed, and you could park all day, if you wanted to. But that, he explained, was before the bad times came to us and the horrors of the war.

"Why," he cried, "I can remember the time when, on Christmas Eve, it was found impossible for the first time to get a parking space in the main streets, and it was such an extraordinary event that the newspapers both had articles about it on the front page. They hailed it as the end of bad times and the assurance that Victoria was at last a city."

INCREDIBLE FACT

WE THEN SOUGHT out a place to have lunch and, even at a quarter to twelve noon, we could find no space in any restaurant. "Why," the old-timer cried again, "I can remember when you could walk into any restaurant in the town and get served without difficulty."

I considered this an innocent exaggeration and attributed it to the man's old age and failing memory and the nostalgia of his lost youth. But he insisted that it was so—that you could usually get a seat in a restaurant at any time of the day without waiting in line. But that was long ago, before the bad times and the horrors of the war.

Standing at the corner of Douglas and Yates Streets, the old man looked blankly at the tide of faces sweeping past him and once more he cried out: "Why, I can remember when one used to know almost every face on the street, at least by sight. Now these people are not only strangers to me but to themselves. Look! Hardly anyone knows anyone else. They're all strangers. And, he added, whispering to me with a look of cold horror, "most of them are not Victorians at all! Just look at them. You can see by the look of them. They're not Victorians! They don't know what a Victorian is! Why, they don't even know what Victorian means—or used to mean."

LONG, LONG AGO

WE USED UP HIS last gallon of gas to take a look about the further reaches of the town and the old man solemnly assured me that he could remember when most of Saanich was farm land, when the Uplands were dotted with a few houses, when Rockland Avenue was a street of quiet mansions, when Esquimalt had no beer parlors and even those remote days when before the present Johnson Street Bridge was built and cabinet ministers used to come down to work on the street car.

Yes, he said, many a time he had seen John Oliver coming to town on the street car and talking to people just like any other citizen. But that was long ago.

People in Victoria, he said, were very simple then and rather naive and they imagined that if they could only increase the population of the town then everyone would be happy. Now, he said, the miracle had occurred—the population had increased, the streets had filled up, the crowds had surged along every sidewalk and filled every theatre and eating place and, according to the mythology of the old natives, everyone should not be happy.

"But are they happy?" he asked. He peered with his falling eyes into faces that swept past on the sidewalk and he said he could see no sign of happiness. But I reminded him that these were bad times, in the middle of a hard war. Perhaps, he said, that explained it.

Yet he still harbored the suspicion that in the far-off days before Victoria grew up, people were happier, and sustained with the hope of building a larger and greater and busier and more crowded city. But that was long ago, he said. That was back in 1928, before the depression, and before the economic privations of this war.

RUSSIA'S 'FREE GERMANY' MOVE

Waverley Root over NBC

"We have the news from Russia that a Free Germany movement is being formed there. Is this another sign that Russia thinks that the break will come soon? Is she preparing her postwar government in Germany? At the moment when those of us who were calling for a second front were being described as Communists, it was actually its opponents who were setting up the present situation, where Russia may find herself alone on the victorious battlefield, while we, because we failed to take our position on it in time, are left out in the cold."

Johannes Steel over NBC:

"Announcement from Russia of the Free Germany Committee is an extremely significant development and should certainly be contrasted with the contacts that Washington and London have maintained with certain other German, Italian and Hungarian groups in exile which have a conservative, if not reactionary, connection."

EDUCATIONAL OBJECTIVE

Eleanor Roosevelt in her column is impressed by a recent speech delivered by Harold D. Smith, director of the federal bureau of the budget, in which he said: "Education must be forged into an effective creative instrument for the job of building a better society."

Religions In Canada

Results of the 1941 census show that nine of the principal religious denominations in Canada had more than 100,000 adherents, and five others from 25,000 to 100,000. Leading Protestant denominations were the United Church of Canada, whose followers comprised 19.2 per cent of the total population, the Anglican, comprising 15.2 per cent and the Presbyterian Church 7.2 per cent. Adherents of the Roman Catholic Church, including those of Greek Catholic faith, accounted for 43.3 per cent of the population. Figures for each of the religions having more than 100,000 followers, with percentages of the total population in brackets, are as follows: Anglican 1,751,188 (15.2), Baptist 483,592 (4.2), Greek Orthodox 139,629 (1.2), Jewish 168,367 (1.5), Lutheran 401,153 (3.5), Mennonite 111,380 (1.0), Presbyterian 829,147 (7.2), Roman Catholic 4,986,552 (43.3), United Church of Canada 2,204,875 (19.2).

The religious denominations of the various provinces showed noteworthy differences. In the province of Quebec, persons of Roman Catholic faith comprised 86.9 per cent of the population, and in New Brunswick 48.2 per cent. In Ontario and the prairie provinces they formed roughly one-fourth of the population, and in British Columbia only 13.9 per cent.

Almost 30 per cent of the population of Ontario were followers of the United Church of Canada, approximately one-fourth of those in Prince Edward Island, the prairies and British Columbia, and one-fifth in Nova Scotia. These ratios dropped to 13.8 per cent in New Brunswick and 3.0 per cent in Quebec.

Anglicans were most numerous in the British Columbia and Ontario, comprising 30.0 per cent and 21.5 per cent, respectively, of the populations of these provinces. Nova Scotia followed with 17.9 per cent and the prairie provinces averaged about 15 per cent. The lowest proportions of Anglicans were noted in Quebec with 4.9 per cent, and Prince Edward Island with 6.0 per cent.

Presbyterians also formed relatively larger percentages of the populations of Ontario and British Columbia than for all provinces combined, amounting

The Eolian Isles Are Ours

In picking up the Eolian Islands, that lie in the angle between Sicily and the toe of the Italian boot, United Nations forces have taken into custody two volcanoes with claims of their own to uniqueness among fire-mountains.

Vulcano, on the island of the same name, may be regarded as the "type specimen" of its class, for its particular name obviously is the general name for all volcanoes. Why this particular cone should have come to be par excellence "the" volcano, especially with the much more impressive peaks of Vesuvius and Etna not far away, it is hard to guess. The evolution of geographic names, through the often obscure course of history, is often anything but logical.

Stromboli, which has also given its name to its island, is famed for a different reason. Of all volcanoes, it comes nearest to being incessantly in action. It booms and rumbles day and night, though seldom blowing off violently enough to cause harm. It used to be claimed that it never stopped, but it is now known that Stromboli has occasional periods of quiescence, sometimes several months in length.

Stromboli, with a height somewhat over 3,000 feet, compares fairly with Vesuvius, which is just under 4,000, but not at all with Etna's towering 10,000. Vulcano, with its highest point only a little more than 1,600 feet above sea level, is relatively a dwarf.

Volcanoes were regarded in ancient mythology as the chimneys of Vulcan's forge. By transfer, they became in medieval and early modern times the chimneys of hell. Something of this notion lingers still in the rather widespread impression that they are direct vents to the molten interior of the earth.

While it is true that the ultimate source of a volcano's heat is the interior heat of the earth, the connection is not so simple as this picture would make it. Modern geological research indicates that volcanoes are more or less localized affairs, and that molten rock that flows from them is produced on the spot by local causes.

The modern picture is something like this: Surface layers of rock are pushed into folds by the mountain-forming shifts and shrinkings of the earth. Deep beneath the surface, a part in setting these foldings in motion. The harder, firmer rocky strata bend, perhaps break, but do not crumble. The folding and bending cause severe local heating, first as a strain of heat metal can be heated by rapid bending.

to about 12 per cent in each of these two provinces. Prince Edward Island showed the highest percentages, however, with 15.5 per cent of the population recorded as Presbyterians. Proportions in other provinces ranged from 8.7 per cent in Alberta to 1.7 per cent in Quebec. Baptists were relatively most numerous in Nova Scotia and New Brunswick, amounting to 15.4 per cent and 19.4 per cent of their respective populations, followed by Prince Edward Island with 5.7 per cent and Ontario with 5.1 per cent.

Adherents of the Greek Orthodox Church, together with Lutherans and Mennonites, were found mainly in the western provinces. Persons of Jewish faith were concentrated in the three central provinces of Quebec, Ontario and Manitoba, with relatively small numbers in the remaining provinces.

The relative changes since 1931 for most religious groups were not substantial. Some, however, showed significant gains over the past decade. Persons reported as Pentecostals more than doubled between 1931 and 1941, increasing from 26,301 in 1931 to 57,646 in 1941, while the Evangelical Church followers increased from 22,213 to 37,002, a gain of 66.6 per cent. Mennonites increased by 25.5 per cent, Greek Orthodox 36.4 per cent, Roman Catholics 16.4 per cent, Adventists 15.1 per cent, Mormons 14.9 per cent, Christian Science 9.7 per cent, United Church of Canada 9.3 per cent, Salvation Army 9.2 per cent, Baptist 9.1 per cent, Jewish 8.2 per cent, Anglican 7.1 per cent and Lutheran 1.8 per cent. Presbyterians recorded a decline of 4.8 per cent and Confucians and Buddhists a drop of 5.0 per cent.

Some religious denominations were found mainly in rural areas, while others predominated in urban localities. Examples of the former type, with percentages of the total adherents in rural areas are as follows: Adventist 73.2, Greek Orthodox 59.0, Lutheran 66.3 and Mennonite 86.9. Those mainly urban were Anglican 62.0, Confucian and Buddhist 61.4, Christian Science 74.3, Jewish 96.1, Presbyterian 61.3 and Salvation Army 76.0. Other religious denominations were divided fairly evenly between rural and urban localities.

Empty Planes

From Vancouver Sun
Between Aug. 1 and 17 last, Trans-Canada Airways planes crossed the Straits of Georgia to Patricia Bay, Vancouver Island, 34 times. They could have carried 340 passengers between Vancouver and Victoria. They only carried 122. Thus 218 seats were vacant at a time when travelers were clamoring for transportation.

The reason for this absurdity is that the Trans-Canada planes are not permitted to carry passengers between Victoria and Patricia Bay. Before you can board a plane at Patricia Bay you must buy a ticket to a point as far east as Lethbridge. Trans-Canada must carry only through traffic under the ruling of the Transport Board of Canada.

The Victoria City Council is determined to fight the Transport Board's ruling. It can not understand why valuable transportation must be wasted at a time when steamboats are crowded and the privately-owned airline between Victoria and Vancouver unable to accommodate the present travel volume.

The Victoria Council should have the support of Vancouver, for this is our business as much as it is Victoria's. And all the taxpayers, who own Trans-Canada, suffer from the present waste in its operations.

Money is just a part of a practical life—it saves time in exchanging goods—and is no good for anything else.—Henry Ford.

Tomatoes Deserve Canning

Alone, or in soups, stews and sauces, tomatoes lead the vegetable parade

There is no canned vegetable the average housewife uses more often than the tomato. To be sure that you have tomatoes later, plan now to can your own. Here in brief is what you do:

1. Select smallish, firm, bright red tomatoes.
2. Cover with boiling water and let stand till skins loosen.
3. Cover with cold water. Peel.
4. Pack closely in hot sterilized jars.
5. Fill jar with tomato juice which has been brought to the boiling point.
6. Add 1/2 teaspoon salt per pint (and a pinch of sugar, too, if you can spare it).
7. Partially seal jars (rings and tops sterilized).

Process 30 minutes in boiling water bath; or 35 minutes for pints, 45 minutes for quarts, in 275° oven.

9. Tighten screw tops and close second spring on spring-top jars.

10. Invert sealers to test for leakage; store in cool, dry, dark place.

To prepare juice for pouring over whole tomatoes as above: cut up tomatoes—use any very large or imperfect ones—and cook slowly until soft; bring to boil and use strained or unstrained.

Here's a simple recipe for a quick tomato sauce using your own canned tomatoes

In 3 tablespoons melted fat, sautéed, dripping or butter, fry a little chopped onion; blend in 4 tablespoons flour, 1 teaspoon salt and a little pepper. Stir in 2 cups tomato juice (or strained cooked tomatoes) and cook, stirring, until thickened. Add, to your taste, such things as a dash of Worcestershire Sauce, a pinch of herbs, a trace of

Weddings

SMITH-PARKES

A quiet wedding took place Monday morning at 10, in Metropolitan United Church manse, when Rev. A. E. Whitehouse, D.D., united in marriage Velma Ethel, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Parkes, Cartwright, Man., and LAC. Douglas Watt Smith, R.C.A.F., only son of Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Smith, 1346 Slater Street.

The bride chose a two-piece afternoon frock of air force blue silk crepe, with sequin trim, for her wedding gown. She wore a matching feather hat, navy accessories, and a corsage bouquet of pink roses and white heather. Miss Vivian Blake was her only attendant, frocked in shell pink, with matching feather hat, navy accessories and corsage bouquet of white carnations and forget-me-nots. Sgt. Gordon Jackson, R.C.A.F., supported the groom.

A wedding breakfast was held in the Princess Charlotte room of the Empress Hotel. Mrs. Smith, wearing a navy blue ensemble with white accessories, was assisted in receiving the guests by Mrs. P. Dallin, an old friend of the bride's family, who represented Mrs. Parkes, the bride's mother, during the day. She wore a printed silk frock with black accessories, and both wore shoulder sprays of pink carnations and white sweet peas. A pale green linen cloth covered the refreshment table, centred with the three-tier wedding cake, surrounded at the base with yellow begonias and fern. Huge bowls of yellow chrysanthemums completed the table arrangements. Mr. P. Dallin proposed the toast to the bride.

LAC and Mrs. Smith left for a honeymoon in Vancouver and Qualicum, and will return to Victoria, before the groom returns to his station. Going away, the bride wore a navy and white tailored suit, with white accessories.

Business Women Plan National Week Program

Visiting members of out-of-town clubs as well as members of the Victoria Business and Professional Women's Club gathered at the home of Mrs. H. M. Hall, Gordon Head, Sunday, for a picnic luncheon. Representatives of Seattle, Vancouver, New Westminster and Port Angeles B. and P. W. Clubs were present and after the alfresco meal under the trees, discussed tentative plans for the observance of National Business Women's Week in the United States and Canada for the week starting October 11.

Saturday evening 70 members and guests attended the annual installation dinner of the Victoria club in the Duke of Kent room at the Empress Hotel. Miss Edith Parsell presided at the dinner, and Miss Bessie Crowther was in charge of the evening's arrangements.

Mrs. H. M. Hall, British Columbia vice-president, installed the following officers at an impressive candle-lighting ceremony: President, Miss Edith Parsell; past-president, Mrs. Kate Farquharson; first vice-president, Miss Bessie Crowther; second vice-president, Mrs. Lillian Smith; treasurer, Mrs. Winnifred Ellis; corresponding secretary, Miss Margaret Woodcock; recording secretary, Mrs. I. M. Abbott; directors, Mrs. Irene Carroll, Miss Minnie Beveridge, Mrs. Mary Lambport, Mrs. Harold F. Lord and Miss Helen Cruickshank.

Miss Margaret Clay, past national president, made the presentation of the Bay Wigley Memorial Scholarship to Miss Georgina Levin, a pupil of Victoria High School, and the eighth winner of this award.

STRATEGY OF IMAGINEERING

Miss Wilma Zimmerman of Tacoma, state president of the Washington Federation of Business and Professional Women's Clubs, was the guest speaker, and chose as her subject: "The Strategy of Imagineering." A new American-coined word, "Imagineering," combines imagination and engineering, and applies the facts of the latter and the vision of the former to the development of post war projects. Food, clothing, health, shelter and education were the five fronts on which Miss Zimmerman stressed need of vigilance of women in guarding these fronts. The re-education of people who were once "our enemies," and the housing programs, which must build for the future, were other points mentioned by the speaker in "Imagineering."

Vocal solos by Mrs. R. Nash, accompanied by Mr. George H. Peaker, added to the enjoyment of the evening, and a clever skit was portrayed in pantomime by members of the Victoria and Zelotes clubs.

Ambulance Centre Moves to Fort

Victoria Centre of St. John Ambulance Association has recently moved to 824 Fort Street after being at the Crystal Garden for the past two or three years. The new premises have been altered to accommodate first aid and home nursing lecture rooms, first aid equipment room, industrial first aid and V.A.O. lecture rooms and two offices.

Classes will shortly be organized in first aid and home nursing. As a war measure first aid and home nursing is given by St. John as free training classes for those being examined for certificates. Candidates enrolled for re-examinations are required to pay a nominal fee to cover the cost of issuance of awards.

History of Lions Fund For Child War Victims

Mayor A. McGavin buying from Jack E. Fuller, president Victoria Lions Club, first ticket for a five-room bungalow which is to be given away by the Victoria Lions Club in connection with their drive for funds for the British and Chinese Child War Victims. Mayor McGavin voiced the hope that the Lions Club of Victoria would meet with great success in this effort, he felt sure they would because Victorians have never failed when called upon for a worthwhile charity.

At a special meeting the board of governors of Lions International, held in Toronto in January, 1941, a proposal to establish a fund to be known as the Lions British Child War Victims' Fund was unanimously and enthusiastically adopted.

A committee, with headquarters in St. Catharines, Ont., was set up to make the necessary arrangements to secure all required authorities for establishment and operation of the fund, as well as royal patronage.

Her Majesty Queen Elizabeth was asked to designate an organization in Britain that could use the fund most advantageously to relieve the distress of children in bombed areas.

On July 23, 1941, Her Majesty, through Lady Marion Hyde, lady-in-waiting, expressed the wish that the moneys received from time to time by this organization be allotted to the Waifs and Strays Society as follows: "Suggest allocating any contributions from Lions Fund at rate of 10s per week per child. Money in my hands supporting 116 children for a whole year. If you agree to allocation send in full details on receipt of cable of children selected. Help greatly appreciated. Sincere thanks to every one.—Vaughn."

The proposal as outlined was fully approved by the Lions International. Donations and financial statement up to June 30, 1942, shows the following figures: Alberta Lions Club, $3,460.57; British Columbia Lions Clubs, $2,161; Manitoba, $230; New Brunswick, $1,221.59; Ontario Clubs, $53,448.38; Quebec, $2,752.14; Saskatchewan Lions Clubs, $1,138.65. Since this statement was published, thousands of dollars have been added to the fund.

Now Victorians are being asked by the Victoria Lions Club to add their dollars to this worthy cause. A beautiful modern five-room bungalow in the high part of Rockland district has been purchased by the local Lions and will be drawn for in the near future. The Lions' home which will be won by a fortunate subscriber overlooks the Gulf and the Olympic mountains. Situated on a lot 100 by 180, the home has its own greenhouse, garden and lawn. The Lions Club of Victoria have opened an official office at 1513 Douglas Street, where the public may make subscriptions which will be supporting the little heroes of Britain and China who have suffered so cruelly at the hands of a ruthless enemy.

Accommodation Found For 1,333 Persons

During August 2,268 people applied at the Victoria Housing Registry for accommodation. Housing was found for 1,333 persons, 589 of them in housekeeping accommodation and 744 in bedrooms in the city. Of the persons applying for a place to live, 1,536 were newcomers. At the end of the month 893 families were listed as needing housing met.

accommodation, many of these being families of men who have come to Victoria to work in essential war industries.

Plans for a miscellaneous sale and silver tea on Thursday were made by the Ladies' Aid of the Ganges United Church at its meeting last week. The annual sale of work will be held Oct. 28. The financial statement given by the secretary showed $9.82 on hand after all accounts had been met.

She Never Thinks about RHEUMATIC Pains

The best way to deal with rheumatic pains is to prevent them developing at all. The next best thing is to tackle them when you feel the first twinges. Telling when she has avoided rheumatic pains 76-years-old Mrs. Amsden writes—

"I take a small dose of Kruschen in hot water every morning. This is a certain method (for me) of avoiding rheumatic pains and constipation. Before I started taking Kruschen I had frequent attacks of lumbago and sciatica. Now I don't think about rheumatic pains at all, can walk miles, and never have headaches. I am close on seventy-six years old, but no one believes it, as I look so healthy. I believe it is due to Kruschen, which has been my friend for thirteen years."—(Mrs.) E. B. Amsden.

Why is it that lumbago, backache, rheumatic pains and indigestion often yield so swiftly to Kruschen Salts? It is because Kruschen is a balanced combination of mineral salts, each with a penetrating action of its own. Stomach, liver, kidneys and digestive tract are all benefited, and toned up to a proper condition of efficiency. When your whole system starts working like a perfect machine, you can shed your woes like a worn-out garment. Kruschen Salts come in two sizes, 25c and 75c at all drug stores.

Reginald McKenna Dies in London at 80

LATE REGINALD MCKENNA

LONDON (CP)—Reginald McKenna, 80, chairman of the Midland Bank since 1919 and a former Chancellor of the Exchequer, died Monday.

He entered Parliament as a Liberal for North Monmouthshire in 1895 and held the seat until 1918.

McKenna was Chancellor of the week-end.

the Exchequer under Asquith in 1915 and 1916.

His first ministerial post was that of financial secretary of the treasury, which he held in 1905. Two years later he became president of the board of the education, in 1908 First Lord of the Admiralty and in 1911 home secretary.

He was educated at King's College and Cambridge University, where he rowed bow for the university team in 1887.

VISITED CANADA

MONTREAL (CP)—Reginald McKenna was "keenly interested in the progress of Canada and gladly embraced every opportunity to advance its interests in London," D. C. Coleman, president and chairman of C.P.R., said.

"Mr. McKenna was a great Imperial statesman and history will give him a high place in the list of those who provided Britain with the noblest qualities of leadership at a time when her safety and freedom were in peril," Mr. Coleman said.

Mr. McKenna was a director of the C.P.R. for 17 years, and came to Canada in 1927 to inspect the system. He went as far west as Victoria.

U.S. Tennis Final

Hunt Whips Kramer

FOREST HILL, N.Y. (AP)—Lieut. Joe Hunt had too much power for searhan Jack Kramer of the coastguard Monday and used it to win the United States singles tennis championship.

Hunt turned back Kramer 6-3, 10-3, 6-0. Kramer, who spent Saturday in bed with an attack of intestinal flu and who was barely able to last through Sunday's hard match against Ecuador's Francisco Segura, wilted under the double handicap of illness and heat, and didn't even make a gesture toward winning the final set.

Up to the intermission, however, it was as hard-fought a tennis match as the West Tennis Club Stadium has witnessed in many years.

Hunt succeeds another naval officer, Ensign Ted Schroeder, who received his sailing orders shortly before the tournament began and could not defend his title.

Giving California virtually a clean sweep of the tournament honors—Hunt and Kramer both are Californians—Louis Brough of Beverly Hills and Margaret Osborne of San Francisco retained the women's doubles title, beating Pauline Betz of Los Angeles and Doris Hart of Miami 6-4, 6-3. Miss Betz had won the women's singles and Kramer and Parker had taken the men's doubles Saturday.

Miss Osborne and William Talbert, former Cincinnati, now living in Indianapolis, defeated Miss Betz and Segura for the mixed doubles title 7-5, 6-4.

To Employers and Employees:

THE 6th Compulsory Employment Transfer Order, issued under authority of National Selective Service Civilian Regulations, requires compliance not later than September 8th, 1943. After that date no employer may continue to employ any man covered by this Order, unless under special permit.

The first five Compulsory Transfer Orders listed occupations, and required compliance by all male employees in those occupations if (a) in an age and marital class designated under the Military Call-up, or if (b) 16, 17 or 18 years of age. The Sixth Order repeats all occupations given in the five earlier Orders, and requires all other men from 16 to 40 years of age (both ages inclusive) to become available for transfer to higher priority jobs, by registering at the nearest Employment and Selective Service Office.

Details of the Sixth Order were advertised in daily newspapers at the end of August. Copies of the Order may be secured from any Employment and Selective Service Office.

If in doubt as to the coverage of this Order, or the procedure under it, ask your nearest Employment and Selective Service Office.

All men, married or single, employed in designated occupations, aged 16 to 40, are now covered by the Orders. To avoid penalties, those who have not yet registered must do so by September 8th, 1943.

CONTINUING their surprising form since they hit the play-off trail, Victoria Machinery Depot baseballers copped the city championship Saturday night with their fourth straight victory over the Navy. Those four triumphs in a row represented a major upset. As a matter of fact if you had wanted to make a wager on the series going to the shipbuilders in straight games, a few weeks ago, it would have been possible to get some mighty sweet odds.

V.M.D. won because they hit the ball and their pitchers were steady. The entire shipbuilders' club improved 100 per cent offensively in the playoff series while the Navy's power at the plate was far below normal. The three members of the V.M.D. mound corps, Tommy Musgrave, Cy Shillito and Jack Coghlan all played their part in the club's success, the first-named being the big factor with two triumphs. Shillito got sweet revenge for that 7 to 1 tie in the second on engagement by pitching his team to the championship in the final contest. Talking to Cy before the game, he remarked: "This is one ball game I want to win more than any other since I started out there on the hill."

Lot of credit for the V.M.D. win must go to playing coach Laurel Harney. The peppy little catcher was in there fighting all season and it was his handling of the pitchers that had a lot to do with their success during the long campaign. In the play-offs Harney hit a lot better than in the latter part of the season, and even his critics will have to admit he made few mistakes back of the plate. Harney is a fighting ball player and he keeps the rest of the boys on their toes.

Rivalry between the V.M.D. and Navy was just a little keener during the playoffs and tempers were frayed at times, but when the last out was made Saturday night the sailors were the first to congratulate their opponents. Any hard feeling there might have been were forgotten and that is the sign of good sportsmanship. The Navy played hard to win and fought for everything they thought was due to them. They couldn't be blamed for squawking over some tough breaks. We imagine it was a pretty bitter pill to swallow for the sailors to get into the finals two successive seasons only to finish on the short end. After winning the league honors the bluejackets figured they had at least an even chance to take the major pot.

"And here comes Malicious." How well we remember that cry a few years back when the famous old gelding was the scourge of distance runners on this coast. And now he is dead. Malicious gained his fame at a time when most thoroughbreds are through. He raced in Vancouver for several seasons in the colors of Connie Copenhaver and was just another horse. In the summer of 1935 he started on the road to success when he won the Olympic handicap, a two-mile stake at Longacres. Later he was shipped to California tracks, where he won consistently over the marathon routes. The old gelding would start running over the opposition in the last half mile after being back as far as 20 lengths. California crowds used to wait for broadcaster Joe Hernandez to call: "And here comes Malicious" to start their cheering, which increased in volume until the race was over.

Stan Leonard Holds Alberta Golf Title

EDMONTON (CP)—Stan Leonard, the Vancouver pro-shot-maker, Monday successfully defended his Alberta open golf championship against a strong field of contestants to win the 72-hole medal play, 23.

Henry Martel of Edmonton, an amateur, was second, and at one time during the play in the last round drew close to Leonard, but fell behind shortly after and wound up with a total of 295 for the 72 holes, two behind the champion.

Close behind Martel was Morris Gravatt, the Johnstown, Penn., professional, with 298.

When the first half of the play was completed Sunday, all three were in the same position they finished up in today. At that time Leonard had played two rounds with a 69 for each, but his score Monday dropped to 76 and 79 for the same distance to bring his score to 293.

Major League Ball

Cards Sweep Two Baseball

Labor Day, traditionally a big day for the major leagues, passed with nothing more than modest notice from the fans this year, but the players and clubs concerned did their utmost to provide excitement for the 122,561 spectators who turned out at seven parks.

At Chicago, Woody Williams, a reserve infielder for Cincinnati Reds, tied the National League record for consecutive hits, 10, by making five in the first game and another on his first time up in the nightcap to go with four he had made at St. Louis Sunday.

With this momentum the Reds whipped the Cubs twice, 10 to 1 and 3 to 1, the latter game going 10 innings.

The St. Louis Cardinals crushed Pittsburgh Pirates twice, 3 to 2 and 6 to 2, as Alpha Bralje pitched seven-hit ball and Harry Brecheen came up with a four-hitter.

At Brooklyn, before the largest throng of the day, 28,638, the Dodgers ran their winning streak to 10 games, longest in the five-year managerial tenure of Leo Durocher, by winning the first half of a doubleheader with Boston Braves, 7 to 3. Then the Braves banged back to win the second game 3 to 2.

Babe Dahlgren, who worked two innings as a catcher in the first game at the Polo Grounds in New York, hit a two-run homer in the 11th inning of the second game to give Philadelphia Phillies a 3 to 1 decision over the Giants after New York had bagged the opener, 6 to 3.

In the American League, New York Yankees were walloped, 11 to 2, in the first game of a doubleheader with Philadelphia Athletics to give the junior circuit leaders their third straight loss, but they rebounded back with an 11 to 3 triumph in the second game.

Boston Red Sox swept a doubleheader from Washington Senators, 5 to 1 and 4 to 1.

Cleveland clipped St. Louis Browns 3 to 2 in 10 innings and 2 to 0 in five frames, with weather interfering with both games.

VANCOUVER BASEBALL

VANCOUVER (CP)—Bellingham Bells and Vancouver Wallace split a doubleheader opening the Vancouver Senior Baseball League playoff finals. Wallace won the Monday afternoon game 6 to 3, and Bells the night game 12 to 10. Third game of the best-of-seven series is scheduled for Wednesday.

Musgrave Turns Back Visitors

Victoria's All-Star baseball team closed out the 1943 season in a blaze of glory Monday afternoon, smashing through a 3 to 1 victory over the crack Fort Lewis Warriors before a record crowd of over 3,200. The Washington club took the morning game 11 to 3.

Tommy Musgrave, big right hand pitcher of the Victoria Machinery Depot, local champions, turned in a sweet performance on the mound to whip the visitors, a collection of major and minor league professionals. Although he gave up 10 hits, Musgrave was deadly in the pinches and, after giving the Warriors an unearned run in the first inning, slammed the door to the home plate shut for the remainder of the afternoon. Musgrave struck out three and walked none.

To win the Victoria club beat the famed Aldon Wilkie, former member of the pitching staff of the Pittsburgh Pirates of the National League. The left-hander was touched for seven hits, with the Victoria club doing all its damage in the sixth with three runs. Wilkie struck out four and walked one.

Sharing the hero honors with Musgrave was left fielder Van Hatten, as it was his stinging single in the sixth that drove home the winning runs.

Fort Lewis got away to a 1 to 0 lead in the first frame. Hal Lee laid down a bunt and beat it out. Musgrave threw low to first in attempting to pick off Lee, and he romped to second and went down to third on a wild pitch. Rich's single to centre field scored Lee. Musgrave got a nice hand from the crowd when he struck out Morrie Armovich, former major league outfielder, to retire the side.

Fort Lewis threatened again in the top half of the sixth. Two hits and an infield put runners on third and second with one away. Musgrave hitched up his belt and got out the hole by forcing Kubicek and Brizer to pop up to Peden and Bruce.

WINNING RALLY

Catcher Laurel Harney opened the Victoria half of the sixth with single into centre field and was sacrificed down to second by Bruce. Patterson hit sharply to the shortstop and when the infielder juggled the ball, before making a belated throw, Harney kept right on going to the plate and was safe when the catcher dropped the relay from first. Patterson was also called safe. Lowe hit to Wilkie and drew a life at first when the pitcher fumbled the ball. Peden laced the ball into left field for a single, and the bases were loaded. Van Hatten followed with a sharp line drive into left centre, scoring Patterson and Lowe. Parent grounded out to Wilkie and Earnswell fled to Brizer in right field for the third man.

In the eighth inning, with runners on first and second, with one out, the Victoria club pulled a double play to cut off the rally, third-sacker Lowe to first-baseman Peden. That was the last scoring chance for the visitors.

One bad inning, the second, which saw Fort Lewis score eight runs on five hits and three errors, cost Victoria the morning engagement. Jerry Ray, on the hill for the locals, gave up only 10 hits, and pitched a fair game, except for that one disastrous frame. He struck out seven and issued two walks. Eddie Erault, formerly with Hollywood of the Coast League, hurled for Fort Lewis, allowing nine safeties, while he fanned six and walked none.

Of the 11 runs scored by Fort Lewis, only two were earned.

At the conclusion of the afternoon game Alderman Duncan McTavish presented the cup offered by the Victoria centenary committee, to Col. A. Merrill in

Peden, Dale Win Events in Track Meet at Edmonton

EDMONTON (CP)—Cpt. Tom Steel, of No. 2 wireless school, R.C.A.F., Calgary, Monday won three firsts in events in the inter-service track and field day here to lead his team and give them a grand aggregate of 44 points to win the honors, with the second team, Penhold, R.A.F., following up with only 19 points.

Torchy Peden, Victoria, B.C., now a corporal in the R.C.A.F., and former six-day bicycle rider, won both bicycle events in the meet against an old rival, Pte. Paul Picard of Montreal, now with the Camrose army training centre, placing second.

Cpl. Steel won the 100 and 220-yard sprints on good margins, doing the 100 in 10.1 and the 220 in 25.1, and he also won the running broad jump at 20 feet 8 1/2 inches.

AC2. Bill Dale, of Victoria, and now at No. 4 initial training school at Edmonton, won the 440-yard run in 56.5 and the 880-yard race in 2:13.2, to give his team a boost to third place in the grand aggregate.

PEOPLE over 40 often slowed down by CONSTIPATION

Everyone knows people who look younger than their years. They bubble over with health, zest, good humor. Yet many, especially over 40, allow a small thing to cheat them of that glad, healthy feeling, the basis of successful personality.

Your system is like an engine. It must be kept clean, smooth-running, or it backfires. Constipation slows you down, makes you feel tired, irritable, and even sick. It causes food waste and stimulates daily flow of liver bile with BILE BEANS.

Made from 50 pure vegetable extracts, Bile Beans act so gently on liver bile, stomach, kidneys they are called "The Medicine That Comes Naturally." Mild, yet effective.

For brighter, happier days, let Bile Beans take the system into healthy regularity. Pleasantly, ever so gently. Try BILE BEANS tonight—they work while you sleep. Over 7 million Americans have found the convincing evidence of how gently they are helped.

Anxious to Stay In City School

Efforts by parents to have Saanich students who attended Oaklands School last year return to that institution, even though they have passed into Grade 7 or higher, featured class re-opening activity at the city school board office today.

Last year the city school, by arrangement with Saanich, took in a number of the municipal students, including several formerly attending the Model School. Saanich now accommodates children from that area in one of the high school buildings when they pass into Grade 7.

Approximately a dozen parents filed into the board office today seeking permission to continue at Oaklands. City officials explained that request could not be granted unless Saanich or the individual concerned met the $75 a year per pupil charge.

No incidents were reported by H. L. Campbell, municipal inspector, as registrations continued in other schools. Enrollment figures will not be available for a day or two.

Pleading guilty of dangerous driving Aug. 29 on Yates Street, Frederick C. Parkin was fined $10 by George McGregor, J.P., who presided at the city police court today.

One white man and one Indian pleaded guilty in city police court today of being intoxicated Saturday. The white man was fined $25 while the Indian was fined $10. Two other men forfeited $25 bail when they failed to appear in court on similar charges. An Indian guilty of having grape wine in his possession was fined $25.

Best Holiday of Year, Victorians Affirm

"It was the best holiday of the year."

That's how the general public summed up the Labor Day holiday, which took almost everybody out-of-doors for the two days respite from labor.

Even the tireless war workers took a day off; the shipyards were shut down tight and the Allied plants were silent.

Victorians enjoyed themselves in a variety of ways.

Boats were crowded to the limit in the transgulf service; others went fishing, although the majority of the anglers were forced to try their luck in row-boats because of the stringent power-boat gas rationing; amateur yachtsmen went afloat to whip their canvas in the breeze; thousands watched their favorite sport of baseball at Athletic Park; not a few pedaled their way to health on the highways, which were conspicuously free of holiday automobile traffic; buses and streetcars were crowded; and a large percentage of the population contented itself with walking or harvesting their Victory garden crops.

RECORD BASEBALL CROWD

A record crowd of fans turned out at Athletic Park Monday afternoon for the second of a doubleheader baseball program, with 3,200 wildly-excited people cheering for their favorite teams.

Softball games at the same rendezvous attracted a large quota of fans.

YACHTSMEN ON CRUISE

Yachtsmen turned out in force for Rear Commodore Ben E. Nickells' annual cruise to Saanichton Spit.

Lampson Street School registered 553 today and another 20 pupils are expected. H. W. Creelman, principal stated.

Registration is above that of last year, he said and divisions at the school now number 15. Two years ago there were but 10. C. A. Kelly, principal at Esquimalt High School said registration today totalled 121 and stated that two classrooms were set up in the school basement bringing the number of rooms to five. Two new rooms are expected to be added to the school by Christmas, he said.

20 Pay Traffic Fines

Stricter check-up of downtown traffic brought 20 pedestrians and motorists into city police court today on charges of minor traffic misdemeanors.

A young pure black mink, which police shot Monday afternoon, brought to conclusion an otherwise peaceful long week-end for Oak Bay police.

The animal, the origin of which still remains a mystery to police, was shot by Constable R. Cooper at Epworth, and Haultain. Police said the mink may have come from a farm in Gordon Head or may have been roaming at large in the Bowker Creek area.

The fur of the animal was in poor condition.

Sgt. George Varney Of City Police Dies

George Varney, 58, member of the city police staff since 1912 and sergeant since 1934, succumbed Monday night at Royal Jubilee Hospital to a lengthy illness which became acute a few days ago.

Born in London, England, Sgt. Varney came to Canada in 1910, worked on the Canadian Pacific ships on this coast for a short time, before joining the Victoria Fire Department in 1911. After about a year with the fire department, he joined the city police.

His service since 1912 had been continuous. First serving in the capacity of constable, his promotion to sergeant became effective on July 1, 1934. In recent years he had served as desk sergeant.

Besides his daughter he leaves his wife, Mrs. Maud Varney, 1531 Edgeware Road, a son, Vernon, in the army here, and a brother.

Another 60-Pounder For W. H. McMillan

By landing two 60-pound salmon on light tackle in one season, Wallace H. McMillan established a new record for the Tyee Club of British Columbia.

Mr. McMillan announces his second big catch of the season in a letter to George I. Warren, Victoria Chamber of Commerce, dated Sept. 4, and sent from Campbell River.

The fish, which he landed "after a nice fight" weighed 60½ pounds, and was brought in on a nine thread line with a rod weighing six ounces. The breaking strength of the line was under 24 pounds.

Mr. McMillan, who is well known in both Victoria and Winipeg, is president of the Tyee Club.

Need Unselfishness In Postwar World

At the holiday meeting of the Overseas League held Monday at the Empress Hotel, Sir Robert Holland presiding, Maj. Harold Brown spoke on "The British Empire and the Search for Tomorrow."

Maj. Brown spoke of the many problems existing now owing to wartime conditions.

"Greed and selfishness must be eradicated from our midst if we are to make successful preparation for the peace that is to come," he said. He said some people objected to the word "empire" as applied to Great Britain and her overseas possessions, but that he himself approved of the word. It seems to embrace the overseas countries better than any other term could, he explained, and does not necessarily imply imperialism.

With regard to the "Search for Tomorrow," the speaker said the solution for many postwar problems would be possible only through the right-thinking spiritual attitude of individuals. "If in our beloved Canada men can be found who, in the face of a censorious public, could by their example and power of thought bring about some degree of this much-to-be-desired attitude, all our postwar difficulties would be minimized," he said.

Rev. R. O. S. Devens proposed a vote of thanks to the speaker.

A buffet tea was served.

Lord Wright Lauds Canadian Forces

The fine work of the Canadian forces in the present war and in World War I drew tribute from Rt. Hon. Baron Wright of Burley, Lord of Appeal in Ordinary and member of the judicial committee of the House of Lords, in an informal talk to the Victoria Bar Association in the Empress Hotel last week-end.

Guest of honor at a bar association dinner, Lord Wright was largely personal in his remarks, delivering no formal address.

He spoke of rationing in Canada and in Britain, remarking on the liberal butter allowances granted here in comparison to those to which he was accustomed.

He lauded the beauty of Victoria, its serenity and quiet and voiced pleasure over the attractiveness of the boat trip from Vancouver.

Mr. Justice H. B. Robertson, recently elevated to the Court of Appeal, thanked the distinguished guest for his remarks and spoke of the previous visit to Victoria of a member of the Privy Council.

Carew Martin, K.C., president of the Victoria Bar and chairman at the dinner, introduced the speaker and bade a welcome to Mr. Justice A. B. Macfarlane, whose appearance for the first time on the Supreme Court bench he had been unable to attend.

Chief Justice W. B. Farris of the B.C. Supreme Court, expressed appreciation for the courtesies he had been shown by the Privy Council and outlined

HOW TO RELIEVE
PILE TORTURE
QUICKLY AND EASILY

If you are troubled with itching piles or rectal soreness, do not delay treatment and run the risk of letting this condition become chronic. Any itching or soreness or painful passage of stool is nature's warning and proper treatment should be secured at once.

For this purpose get a package of Hem-Rid from Modern Pharmacy and Cunningham Drug Stores, or any druggist, and use as directed. This formula, which is used internally is a small, easy-to-take tablet, will quickly relieve the itching and soreness and aid in healing the sore tender spots. Hem-Rid is pleasant to use, is highly recommended and it seems the height of folly for any one to risk a painful and chronic pile condition when such a fine remedy may be had as such a small cost.

If you try Hem-Rid and are not entirely pleased with the results, your druggist will gladly return your money.

For maximum efficiency of feed utilization, about a third of the total proteins in the diet of hogs, chickens and turkeys should come from animal sources, nutritionists report.

Permit Needs Stressed Here

The need for permits to cover plumbing, wiring and construction installations or improvements in city homes was emphasized by the city building inspector's department today. The point was raised as the city recorded another healthy total in civilian construction last week.

Included in 18 projects for which permits covering values of $17,353 were granted were three new homes as well as major improvements to plants and dwellings. Latest home permit was issued to E. and P. Graves for a $3,500 five-room house at 2983 Blackwood.

With the revival in construction, and particularly in view of alterations being carried out in existing housing accommodation here, officials directed particular attention to by-law requirements in Victoria established to maintain a decent standard of homes. The idea behind those regulations, the building inspector's department said, was to avoid development of unfavorable housing conditions. Their enforcement became increasingly important as owners sought to extend the shelter provided in houses for rent or in dwellings which harbor boarders, lodgers and occupants of housekeeping rooms.

Persons ignoring permit requirements, officials said, laid themselves open to prosecution if any of their improvements contravened the by-laws.

"We want the public to take advantage of our services," D. K. Kennedy, city building inspector, explained. "We know and administer the regulations, both for construction and zoning purposes as well as for the allied fields of plumbing and wiring. We feel it is to the mutual advantage of city authorities and the public to co-operate in the matter. Many difficulties can be avoided through advice from the department prior to a start on projects. Recently the increase in home purchasing and conversion has been marked. In many instances new owners seek to make extensions or improvements without knowledge of restrictions. The department is anxious to assist such individuals in preventing mistakes they may make."

Wartime Housing Community Club

Tenants of James Bay War-time Housing unit turned out in force for a meeting at the new community clubhouse property at Dallas Road and Pilot.

Highlight of interest was in the announcement of winners in the recent garden contest, the results of which had been held secret since the judging Aug. 21.

Presiding at the meeting were members of the executive council, T. K. Willis, chairman; Mr. Scourah, vice-chairman; Mrs. Harry E. Hooton, secretary; E. A. Sharp, treasurer, and H. Cairnes.

Guests of the evening, introduced by Mrs. Hooton, as hosts, included Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Browdy, E. M. McMullen, Maj. H. C. Holmes and Mrs. Claire McAlister of War-time Housing; H. S. Hammill and C. A. Clements, both honorary members of the executive council represented Victoria Machine Depot, and E. W. White and E. M. Whyte, garden contest judges.

In the absence of F. Chattell, garden committee chairman, Mr. Scourah made the announcement of the winners, and the prizes and merit awards were presented by Miss Elizabeth Keeling, community councillor for the group. Prizewinners for this 100-house unit were: E. A. Sharp, 27 Pilot Street; Harry E. Hooton, 38 Pilot Street; Mr. Ray, 31 Ontario; F. Chattell, 132 Ontario; M. Blou, 275 Niagara; Mr. Cosgrove, 67 Pilot Street; Mr. Gustafson, 221 Kingston Street; Mr. Cheney, 122 Simcoe Street; Mr. Scourah, 65 Montreal; A. Leatherby, 46 Pilot; T. K. Willis, 263 Niagara.

Plans were made for the purchase of the property at Dallas Road and Pilot Street, and for a 100% community club program for the 1943-44 season.

C.C.F. Not to Join Labor Progressives

CALGARY (CP)—The C.C.F. national council "almost unanimously" turned down an offer of affiliation with the recently formed Labor Progressive Party, David Lewis of Ottawa, national secretary, announced Monday. "Perhaps about 3 per cent of the delegates voted 'yes,'" he added. The Labor Progressive Party was organized at a national convention in Toronto, under the leadership of Tim Buck, long-time head of the now-disbanded Canadian Communist Party.

The council, attended by delegates from many parts of Canada, followed up week-end discussions behind closed doors with a day-long conference. In a statement, the council denounced the Dominion government's post-war planning, declaring: "It is noticeable that as military victory for the United Nations becomes more certain, the Canadian government's assurances about planning for the postwar period become more vague."

The statement said the Dominion postwar reconstruction committee and its various committees remain shrouded in mystery. "We are convinced that such secrecy is not accidental but that, on the contrary, it is the deliberate policy of the government to give out as little information as possible."

Mrs. Mabel Lunn Dies
QUESNEL, B.C. (CP)—Mrs. Mabel Lunn, 65, pioneer resident of the Cariboo, died here Monday. Her husband, E. C. Lunn, is the government agent, formerly being stationed at Clinton for 30 years.

Survivors include her husband and three sons, L. M. of Williams Lake, Cpl. Dan with the R.C.A.F. overseas, and Flt-Lt. Alan with the R.C.A.F. The latter lost by six hours a race to get to his mother's bedside from Moncton, N.B., before her death.

A fourth son, Gerald (Joker) Lunn has been missing since operations April 16 over Germany.

College Students Train For R.C.A.F.

Victoria College and University of B.C. students, with the opening of the September term, will be given the opportunity to acquire basic and aircrew training with a 12 per cent chance of obtaining commissions.

Formation of two new squadrons is announced, one at Victoria College and another at U.B.C., and they will be component parts of R.C.A.F.

Student airmen will have six hours' training weekly under the wing of Air Cadet P.O. Fields and will have a camp period at a R.C.A.F. station.

Student airmen are enlisted on completion of training, or if they lose their status as bona fide students. Certain restrictions govern students who graduate in engineering as they become subject to the jurisdiction of the Minister of Labor. A limited number will be ear-

Bearded Golby Serves On 'Sweet Sue' New York Stocks

ABOARD H.M.C.S. "SAULT STE. MARIE"—Somewhere in the north Atlantic today is the newest escort vessel of Canada's fast-growing navy, primed and anxious to meet the enemy on the surface of the sea, beneath it, or in the air.

First Algerine to be commissioned by the Royal Canadian Navy, this trim escort ship is faster, larger and more heavily armed than either a minesweeper or corvette.

This latest acquisition to the navy was built in the Port Arthur shipyards and her construction is a tribute to the men who built her.

INSPECTED BY NELLES

Proud were the men aboard this new Algerine minesweeper, when they were inspected by Vice-Admiral P. W. Nelles, R.C.N. The admiral discusses various topics with Naval Minister Angus L. Macdonald (left), and Lt. Col. R. Jackson, R.C.N.V.R. (centre), of Calgary, commanding officer of this new Algerine class escort vessel.

name her ribald crew gave her almost before they were formally introduced. Everyone agrees on that from her bluff, genial captain down to the greasiest stoker.

The Algerine ship is 230 feet long, about midway in size between a corvette and a frigate, and is to be used primarily for escort and anti-submarine work. With a complement of over 100, including officers, she is faster and more heavily armed than either a corvette or minesweeper.

Most of her details are secret. But it can be said she has a husky four-inch gun as her main armament, and carries plenty of anti-aircraft guns and a flock of depth charges.

Built in Port Arthur, Ont., she is the first of her kind to join the R.C.N., although several have been built for the Royal Navy. The second of the class, H.M.C.S. Winnipeg, has just taken her trial runs.

Lt. Col. Jackson has been in the Volunteer Reserve since the late 20's, and in 1934 was given command of the Calgary division, R.C.N.V.R. After recruiting for two years after war broke out, he went to sea and later was given command of the corvette Kenogami.

GOLBY EXECUTIVE OFFICER

Executive officer is Lieut. J. W. Golby, D.S.C., R.C.N.V.R., of Victoria, B.C. His brother, Lt. Cmdr. Thomas W. Golby, R.C.N.R., was skipper of the corvette Weyburn, who was lost when that vessel was sunk in the Mediterranean.

The black-bearded Jimmy didn't want to talk much about the decoration, won at Dunkerque. He was attached to the Royal Navy for two years and at Dunkerque landed with a squad of demolition engineers to blast equipment and installations so they would be of no use.

In the petty officers' mess, lapping up the cook's tempting grub, were Bernard Samson, Vancouver, who had seen service on both coasts; C. G. Cowie, Regina, on his first ship in two years; Thomas G. Williams, Medicine Hat, Alta.; Ed. Carter, Vancouver; George Cole, Victoria, and George Ritchie, Regina.

New York Stocks

NEW YORK (AP)—Wall Street today returned from their extended holiday in a fairly bullish frame of mind market-wise, but most were highly selective in the matter of stock purchasing.

While scattered rails and industrials achieved modest improvement, small minus signs were plentiful near the close.

Expectations that something big was about to happen in Europe in the wake of persistent smashes at the Axis kept the conservative ranks well populated.

Canadian issues, led by Dome Mines, were firm. McIntyre eased slightly. On the bond market Canada 4s held steady.

Golds at New High

TORONTO (CP)—Active trading at advancing prices—in the gold stocks enlivened proceedings today on the Toronto exchange. The group moved up to a new high for the last 22 months and the bulk of the gains were intact at the close.

Industrials and western oils also posted sizable index gains and base metal issues registered little net change. Volume was about 700,000 shares.

Prices ruled higher the liquors, steels and the miscellaneous stocks.

In the western oils moderate strength was shown by Home, Calmont, East Crest and British-Pompanon. Davies weakened a cent.

Grain

WINNIPEG (CP)—Fair buying by exporters and locals, along with firmness at Chicago, boosted wheat futures 1/2 to 3/4 cent a bushel today on the Winnipeg Grain Exchange. October closed at 1.10.

Cash wheat trade was only moderate but rye futures made advances in sympathy with Chicago.

Offerings in the wheat pit were mostly from American interests and appeared to be well taken.

Some local spreading was reported with the October future advancing more than two cents over the May.

Shippers purchased small amounts of No. 1 Northern in cash wheat while mills took round lots of Nos. 3 and 4 Northern. Demand was good for cash coarse grains with an estimated 600,000 bushels of oats taken direct from western Canada points to the United States.

Buying in rye futures was credited to locals and United States interests.

Country wheat marketings Saturday amounted to 707,000 bushels compared with 230,000 bushels last year.

Dorothy Dix:

Dear Dorothy Dix: My husband is a swell guy and very nice looking and I love him the way a woman loves but one man, but the other night he told me he had fallen in love with a woman who works beside him in a big defence plant, and he said she returned his affection. This nearly broke my heart, but I immediately told him I would step out of his way and get a divorce so he could find his happiness with her.

But the next day he told me that he found he had made a mistake and that his home and our little girl meant more to him than the other woman, and he said that this other woman told him he was right to stay with me and that he shouldn't break up his home. She has a husband and a little baby girl, too, but she is thinking of getting a divorce. Now what shall I do? MRS. P.D.

WIVES FIGHTING FOR MATES PREVENT DIVORCE

Answer: Well, I'd say not to be so quick about handing out a divorce. It is no pass the biscuit, Mama. Don't rush out and get a decree absolute from your husband the first time he intimates that he would like one. He may not really want it, after all. Make him wait for it. Give him time to think it over and decide whether he is really in love with the other woman and wants to ditch you and your little girl for her, or if he merely has a passing fancy for her because she works next to him and makes eyes at him. A lot of divorces could be prevented and many homes saved if wives would fight to hold their husbands, instead of just handing them to any predatory lady who comes along and casts covetous eyes at them. A wife may think she is acting noble when she tells her husband that she will not stand between him and his happiness, and turns him over to some love thief he is temporarily enamoured of, but 99 times out of 100, she is only being silly. She is not only making herself unhappy, she is making him miserable, for generally as soon as he has gotten over his passing infatuation he longs for the old wife to whom he was adjusted in his youth, whose ways and habits he knows, whose cooking he likes, and his heart breaks for the children from whom he is separated.

Athlones Keep Busy At Prince Rupert

PRINCE RUPERT (CP)—The Governor-General and Princess Alice are visiting military establishments in Prince Rupert on a six-day visit to the district. The vice-regal party arrived here Sunday morning from Terrace.

Monday the Earl of Athlone visited C. Peck Camp and air force group headquarters, while Princess Alice was inspecting quarters of both the Canadian Women's Army Corps and the women's division of the R.C.A.F. The vice-regal party attended a joint service officers' luncheon, and in the afternoon coast defences were inspected from an assault landing craft. Later they met Mayor W. M. Watts and members of city council and their wives at a reception at the mayor's home.

Today His Excellency made an airplane trip to Annette Island, while Princess Alice visited the general hospital in the morning. In the afternoon she met members of the I.O.D.E., the Red Cross and the Women's Canadian Club.

F.D.R., Churchill Meet Amid Rumors Of Italian Peace Bid

By DOUGLAS B. CORNELL

WASHINGTON (AP)—Prime Minister Churchill and President Roosevelt renew their war discussions today amid multiplying signs they are awaiting some momentous development—perhaps a definite peace bid from Italy.

Indirect peace pleas have been emanating from Rome Radio for some time, and Enrico Galazzi, an official of the Vatican, which might be an agency through which formal overtures would be made, is on the way to Washington.

Mr. Churchill has been on this side of the Atlantic since Aug. 10, and while his current mission appears to have been fulfilled, he as yet has exhibited no disposition to return to Britain.

Hence speculation developed that the two United Nations statesmen virtually are marking time.

Evidence that the Allied leaders had completed their planning task for months ahead was noted in reports that Gen. George C. Marshall, U.S. army chief of staff, has been chosen to lead the invasion of Europe from the British Isles. On the highest authority, it was learned Marshall is to be commander-in-chief of the United Nations in the European theatre, an illustration that preparations for a possible drive across the Channel are rather well advanced.

High Catholic officials here said they were unaware of the nature of the mission of Galazzi, who was secretary to Pope Pius when the latter was a cardinal and who presumably has the Pope's confidence. If his business were purely that of the church, Washington Catholic leaders undoubtedly would know of it.

POSTWAR PLANNING

There was a hint in Mr. Churchill's address at Harvard University Monday that significant postwar planning already had been done by the Allies. He spoke of the smoothly operating machinery of the Anglo-American chiefs of staff and declared:

"For our own safety, as well as for the security of the rest of the world, we are bound to keep it working and in running order after the war, probably for a good many years, not only till we have set up some world arrangement to keep the peace but until we know that it is an arrangement which will really give us that protection we must have from danger and aggression and which already we have had to seek across two vast world wars."

Some observers here noted his choice of words "we are bound to keep it working" seemed so strong as to indicate he and Mr. Roosevelt already might be in agreement on the point.

Labor-Progressives Hear Sangha, McKean

"Unity with all progressive-minded people" was the keynote of the first national convention of Labor-Progressive Party in Toronto recently, Darshan Singh Sangha told a meeting of the Victoria branch of the party in Chamber of Commerce.

He said he felt that such unity is important "in order to avoid an occurrence here similar to that which took place in Nazi Germany when the Social-Democrats were the strongest, but whose policies were opposed to union with the Communists—it was this policy which caused the sudden rise to power of the reactionary element."

Fergus McKean, provincial chairman of the newly-formed party, said the Labor-Progressive Party would work for a single unified political party of the working people and a unified trade union movement.

Mr. McKean said the Labor-Progressive Party is desirous of affiliating with the C.C.F., noting "unless the democratic forces co-operate in electing a farmer-labor government there is a serious danger that we shall get a government made up of men who are determined to get Canada back to the conditions of the 1930's after the war."

"Fighting for victory in this war the Labor-Progressive Party is dedicated to the cause of making Canada a great and happy land, through the institution of the highest form of human endeavor—socialism," Mr. McKean said.

Allied Planes, Navy Destroy 7 U-Boats

LONDON (CP)—Seven submarines were destroyed in recent operations in approaches to the Bay of Biscay, the Admiralty and the Air Ministry announced Monday night, crediting the "kills" to Royal Navy surface vessels and British and U.S. airplanes.

In one action, British and U.S. planes, co-operating with British sloops, sank three submarines in one day.

Two of the three submarines sunk the same day were supply vessels, of which, the communiqué said, the Germans have only a scanty supply.

An R.A.F. Liberator sighted the three outward bound on the surface about 90 miles northwest of Cape Ortegal at the northwest tip of Spain. It was joined by other airplanes, one of which got in touch with nearby navy sloops. Warships immediately headed for the scene.

In another action, three U-boats were spotted on the surface by aircraft of Coastal Command. A Sunderland flew low over one of them and unloaded depth charges. One fell on the conning tower and three more ripped open the hull near the bow. The submarine sank within a few minutes, leaving 20 of its crew in the sea.

A U.S. Liberator attacked and mortally damaged a single U-boat on another occasion.

A few days later another solitary U-boat exploded after it was attacked by two Wellingtons.

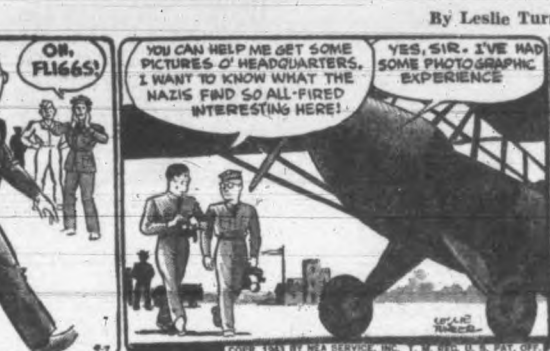

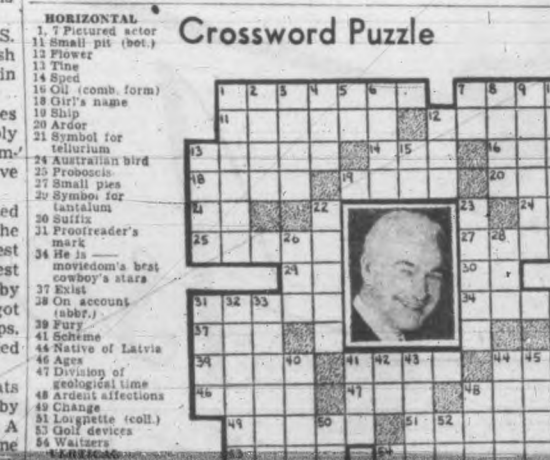

The seventh victim was attacked by U.S. and R.A.F. Liberators and heeled over and sank.

These days most people are working harder, worrying more, sleeping less. This strain on body and brain makes physical fitness easier to lose—harder to regain. Today's tense living lowers resistance—increases body and mental fatigue. Overwork; hasty meals; irregular hours; worry—any of these may upset proper kidney action.

When kidneys get out of order, excess acids and poisons remain in the system. Then backache, headache, rheumatic pain, disturbed rest or that "tired-all-the-time" feeling may soon follow. To help keep your kidneys in good order—to help guard against physical let-down—use Dodd's Kidney Pills, for over half a century a favorite remedy for faulty kidneys. Biggest Crowd In Years At Diamond Jubilee Fair

More than 3,000 persons Monday visited diamond jubilee exhibition of North and South Saanich Agricultural Society at the agricultural hall and grounds on the East Road. It was one of the biggest gates in the history of the society, which had been holding autumn fairs longer than any other similar society in western Canada.

Hon. K. C. MacDonald, Minister of Agriculture, officially opened the fair, made note of the society's long history and its fine contribution to agriculture on this pleasant, sunny peninsula, where the soil produces vegetables as fine as any in the world and where cattle that have taken prizes in Canadian championships graze contentedly in the lush fields. Dr. MacDonald congratulated everyone who had worked so hard to make the fair a success; he told of the value of such agricultural shows and urged the farmers of the district to keep up their good work. He made special mention of the children and their contributions to the exhibition.

SOLD OUT SIGNS

So vast was the crowd that tea was sold out early in the afternoon; so were pop, ice cream and hot dogs. But there was much of interest for the late-comers who, although they had nothing to eat, had plenty to see. There were pony rides for the youngsters. The Highland events, as always, attracted a large crowd. The cattle section was bigger than ever and all afternoon visitors from town and farmers from near-by acres watched the judges at work in the prize ring. There were sheep and swine, chickens and horses, and in the hall were the finest vegetables grown in the district this year. In addition there were a number of historical exhibits that conjured up pioneer days when the farm families rode to the fair by horse and buggy.

There were many fine horses, and the Dr. S. J. Tolmie Challenge Cup for the best team went to James Turner.

CATTLE

In the Jersey cattle section, H. E. Burbridge took most of the prizes, leading in practically every class. He won the ribbon for senior champion cow; ribbon and F. G. Cope challenge cup for junior champion cow; the Eric W. Hamber cup for grand champion cow; the Brackman-Ker cup for senior get of sire; the Fordham-Johnson cup for dairy herd; Palm Dairy prize for best herd of four females, and signifying supremacy, the Royal Bank of Canada cup for most points in the Jersey section.

To a Jersey from the Harold Brooks farm went the junior bull championship, while Major A. D. MacDonald took the bull grand championship. City of Victoria won for R.O.P. went to Arthur Aylard. Frances Pradett won for cow under one year, exhibited by boy or girl under 16 years of age, not a member of a calf club.

The dairy cow judging competition for boys and girls was won by Raymond Eckstrom, with Chere Malcolm in second place.

In the Holstein section Henry Robinson and Frank Doyle were winners.

SHEEP, SWINE

The sheep section was bigger than ever, the leaders being D. G. Mackenzie of Ganges; Jas. Turner, R. C. Derrinberg, Sydney Pickles and Leslie Gaze. Swine winners were A. Doney, W. W. Mitchell and R. C. Derrinberg. Geo. Doney won the prize for shop hog, raised and fed by boy or girl under 16.

In the rabbit section R. V. Robinson and Phyllis Staverman were winners.

Championship for best male bird in the poultry show went to J. P. Mitchell with a light Sussex. P. H. Staverman, with a Rhode Island Red hen won championship for best female bird in the show. Leslie Gaze won for geese.

Egg prizes were as follows: Best one dozen white, Mrs. Wm. Douglas; best one dozen brown, Joan Pickles; best two dozen white, Mrs. F. E. Tickner; best two dozen brown, Mrs. Wm. Douglas.

In the potato section W. D. Mitchell won the South Saanich Farmers' Institute prize for 25 pounds of potatoes, any variety and W. G. Burch won the special award for the best box of potatoes.

W. G. Burch won the keenly-contested J. W. Tolmie Silver Challenge Cup for the best collection of vegetables, 12 distinct kinds, with Geo. Little in second place. Mr. Burch won for the third year in succession. Miss D. S. Maryatt was third.

The district exhibit, with North and South Saanich contesting was beautifully done. The judge had difficulty determining which was best. South Saanich won, however, by 57 points.

There were many splendid apples, Kenneth Mayell winning ribbon for best plate in the show. Mrs. E. Lee had best collection of apples and D. H. Heyer best plate of pears.

Mrs. Wm. Casey won the Mrs. H. Hughes Cup for most points in the flower section. She also entered the best decorated tea table.

JAMS, BOTTLED FRUITS

Mrs. A. R. Anderson was top in the section for jams and bottled fruits. Emblematic of this, she won the B.C. Electric Railway Company special prize for most points in this section. She took Growers' Wine prize for best quart jar of logans; Saanich Fruitgrowers' Association prize for collection of small fruits; Mrs. Norman W. Whittaker prize for collection of jams. Mrs. B. M. Willoughby took the Royal Oak Women's Institute prize for collection of canned vegetables.

Mrs. C. L. Styan and Mrs. Jas. E. Nimmo won South Saanich Women's Institute prizes for dark and white fruit cake. Special prize for pint jar of logan jam was won by Mrs. W. J. H. Miller. Blue Ribbon teabiscuit competition was won by Mrs. W. Carmichael, whose daughter, Norma, aged eight years, won prizes for pies and doughnuts and whose mother, Mrs. R. E. Nimmo, won a prize for pies, thus making three generations of the one family high up in the home-cooking art. Magic Baking Powder iced layer cake competition was won by Mrs. J. Turner.

What kind of clothing will we wear after the war?

AMONG many things that War has proved is this one thing: War has a great effect on the kind of clothing we wear after the War is over.

New materials, new ideas, new methods of production, which are the result of man's wartime ingenuity, find their place in civilian life when the men come marching home. Remember the changes in clothing after the last War? It happened then—and it is going to happen again.

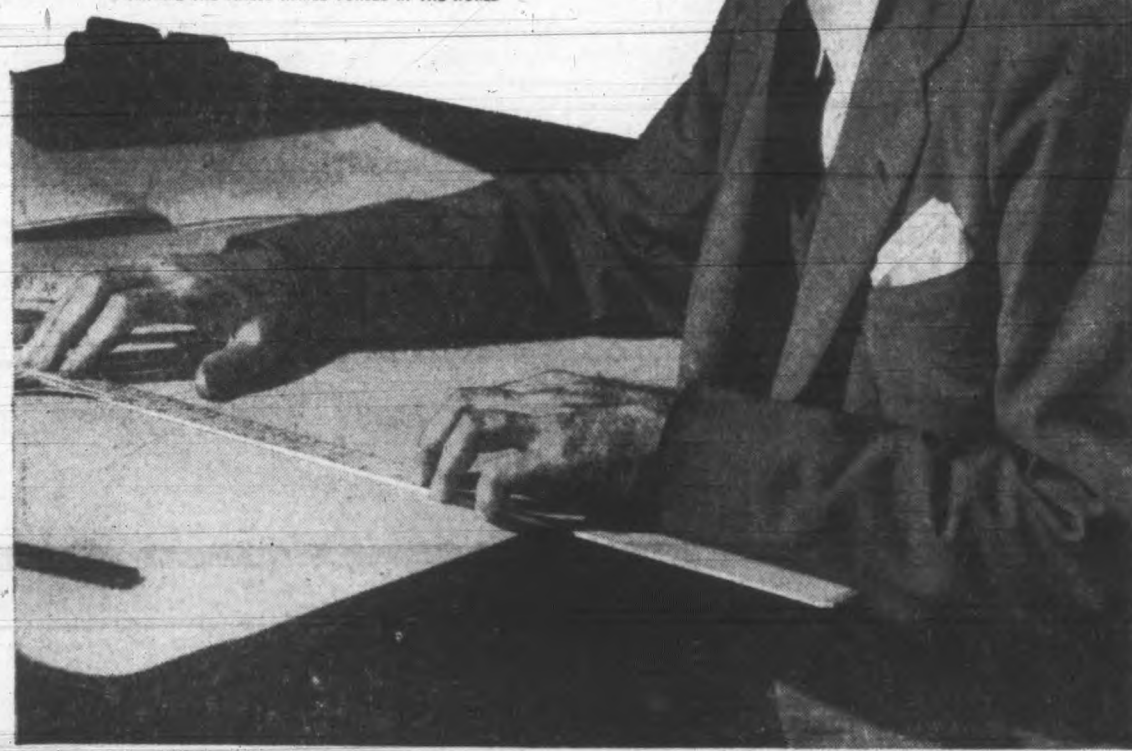

We at Tip Top Tailors are not now thinking of after the war. We are too busy supplying our Armed Forces with uniforms—and as many civilians as we are able to, with their clothing. (Over 80 per cent of our production is devoted to war needs). But of this you may be sure: After Victory is won, the experience and knowledge that we have gained during the war period, will go in full measure into Tip Top Tailors' clothing.

There will be new ideas, new fabrics, new styles and designs, new conceptions of comfort. Whatever form they take—and we have ideas of our own tucked away in our mind—you will hear about them first from Tip Top Tailors.

In the meantime, we are continuing without let-up with the biggest job of our 33 years—the assignment of keeping our Armed Forces comfortably clad in uniforms of quality unexcelled in any army in the world.

SERVING THE FINEST ARMED FORCES IN THE WORLD

Most honey prizes went to D. H. Heyer, who also entered the biggest pumpkin, 51 pounds.

There was a fancy work competition for women over 70 years. So excellent was the work of Mrs. F. E. Tickner, Mrs. J. M. Stewart and Mrs. W. R. Armstrong that they all won prizes.

Pioneer days were recalled by the section for fancywork which took a prize at a Saanich fair at least 40 years ago. Mrs. R. E. Nimmo entered a piece which won a prize at the first fair in 1868 for her mother, Mrs. A. M. Mackenzie, who was then six years old. Mrs. A. G. Smith showed a tablecloth with which her mother, Mrs. G. G. Smith, won a prize in 1871. Mrs. J. J. White and Mrs. A. L. Wilson, sisters, showed work which won them prizes at the turn of the century. Some work done by Mrs. Solomon Dean, mother of McIntyre Dean, displayed in 1873, was also shown in this section.

Mrs. Geo. Bickford won most points in the needlework section and her daughter, Joyce, won first in the same section for girls under 16.

Prizes for oats and wheat were won by W. W. Mitchell; Geo. Nunn won with garden peas. Frank Doyle with Minnesota corn and F. H. Staverman with sunflowers. Brian Tyner, a new exhibitor, lives on Sidney Island, won with his sugar mangels; J. A. Nunn entered a 15-pound cabbage.

In the North Saanich Consolidated School display of handicrafts, John Gordon was first, followed by Peter Bellamy and J. Cruickshank. The big school display, illustrating children's activities, was won by Mt. Tolmie School, with Cloverdale second, in 3 to 8 rooms; Strawberry Vale was first, and Prospect Lake second in 1 to 3 rooms.

INDIAN DISPLAY

Other prize winners in the Indian department were: Potatoes, Mrs. Gabriel Bartelman; sweater, Mrs. Peter Henry; jelly, Mrs. Horace Paul; homespun wool, Mrs. Tommy Paul and Mrs. Monica Tom; plain cake, Mrs. Tommy Paul; apples, Mr. and Mrs. Tommy Paul; plums, Mr. and Mrs. Marshall Harry; eggs, Mrs. Horace Paul; hand-carving, Tommy Paul, with a magnificent canoe complete with warrior paddlers, totem pole, Tommy Paul; bow and arrow, Tommy Paul.

Indian children had a section to themselves and showed some really fine work. Among the winners were: Freda Paul, embroidery; Phillip Paul, woodwork; Ann Elliott, plain sewing; Josephine Bartelman, hooked rug; Johnny Cooper, manual training.

In a shiny black democrat, with a spirited horse, beaux and belles of the gay nineties drove about the fair grounds. The gallants were: Dr. S. F. Miles and Geo. Ford, in bowler hats, and Peggy and Joan Gomonson in crinolines, coquettishly holding parasols.

In the saddle-horse section, Miss Miles won the cross-country ride, and G. J. Timms won a prize for best horse and horse-manship.

Oldest exhibitor at the fair was Mrs. J. E. Bell, 92, who won prizes for her Bellflower apples and plate of walnuts. Mrs. Bell was at the fair herself to see her exhibits looked their best, and to receive congratulations and best wishes.

Judges were as follows:
Horses — Jas. Wood; saddle horses, Lieut. Col. R. Richmond; cattle, Prof. H. M. King; sheep and swine, Arthur Locke; poultry, A. Sansbury and Harry Reid; rabbits, F. P. Boucher; eggs, Wm. Hagger; vegetables, E. W.

White; fruit, L. E. Taylor; flowers, Geo. Robinson; jams and bottled fruits, Mrs. K. McDermid; household arts, Mrs. S. W. Raven; honey, C. E. Jeffery; ladies' work, Miss T. M. Abbott.

Old-timers of the district enjoyed meeting Harry Reid, for they recalled that he judged poultry at Saanich at the Golden Jubilee fair 25 years ago, and that his father judged poultry at the first fair in 1868, and his grandfather was judge of livestock at the same exhibition.

Geo. T. Michell, president of the Agricultural Society, and the reception committee, Mrs. H. Hughes, Mrs. Geo. T. Michell, Mrs. J. J. White and Mrs. F. Turgoose, met the Minister of Agriculture and other visitors from Victoria, including G. Hamilton, Harman, vice-president of Victoria Chamber of Commerce, who represented that body of businessmen.

Everyone worked extremely hard to make the Diamond Jubilee exhibition outstanding and choice of Labor Day, for the first time, was a happy one. Directors and committee members were on the grounds from daylight to dark, at everyone's beck and call, as usual, and just as cheerful as ever, despite the many interruptions to their detailed work, were Stuart G. Stoddard, the secretary-treasurer, and Mrs. Stoddard, whose assistance and willingness all appreciate.
